Says DePuy Had No Property

Elkin Makes Demand For Ellenville Office

Jerome Z. Elkin (R), whose recent election as trustee to the Ellenville village board was upset because he owned no property "of record" in the village, presented evidence at a meeting of the board Monday night that the Democrat he defeated had owned no property of record since 1950.

Mr. Elkin, an employee of Channel Master, presented a certificate from County Clerk Lawrence Craft to the effect that Cyrus DePuy, who recently completed two-year terms as a trustee, had disposed of his village real estate in 1950.

No Record on File

There is no record in the county clerk's office that Mr. DePuy had owned any real estate since that time, according to Mr. Elkin.

On these grounds Mr. Elkin demanded his full seat on the village board.

The law requires that a candidate own property "of record"—that is, property recorded in the Ulster county clerk's office.

Must Be Recorded

The fact that property is not recorded does not, of course, mean that an individual doesn't own property within a particular political unit. The candidate does not qualify, however, if the deed is not recorded.

Village Attorney Robert Stapleton remarked that "two wrongs don't make a right." The fact that Mr. DePuy had been seated on the board without proper qualifications could not be construed as a principle upon which Mr. Elkin could properly be seated, he said.

Following the recent election, the board refused to seat Mr. Elkin, but agreed to "appoint" him for one year. At the end of that time he must again seek the office in a village election.

Will Turn to Law

Mr. Elkin agreed several weeks ago to accept the "appointment"—expressing the view that he could be of more service to his supporters by taking his seat, even on those unsatisfactory terms, than in refusing to be seated and fighting the board's action in the courts. He said at the time, however, that he would seek legal redress.

Some 50 persons present at the meeting—which was called solely for the purpose of opening bids on a pumping station in the Eastview Hills Development, a section of property annexed by the village just west of the original corporate limits—were reportedly quite startled.

Vassar Will Get $934,000 Loan For Dormitory

Washington, April 9 (AP)—The Community Facilities Administration today approved a $934,000 loan for construction of a dormitory at Vassar College, Poughkeepsie, N. Y.

The new 4-story dormitory at the private liberal arts college for women will house 156 students and two faculty supervisors.

Meeting Is Set For Tonight on Junior High Plans

The second in a series of information meetings to explain the need for a new junior high school in the Dietz Stadium area will be held at the George Washington School at 8 p. m. today.

Panel Included

A planned brochure will be presented to those attending. On view will be a painting of the school, a model and floor plans. Pictures of typical activities at the junior high level will also be shown. The pictures were taken recently by the school's audio-visual department.

Members of the Kingston Board of Education will participate in a panel discussion. There will also be a question and answer period.

The first of the series of April meetings was held at School No. 5 on Tuesday, April 2.

Project of Board

The information campaign has been undertaken by the local board of education which feels strongly the necessity for construction of a new junior high school. The board feels strongly that a new junior high school is a must for Kingston whether consolidation comes or not.

The board points out that the junior high is "badly needed" to house the resident children of the city of Kingston since the birth rate in the city increased from 383 in 1945 to 661 in 1956. It is estimated that by 1960-61 an additional 28 rooms will be required for junior high students now living in Kingston. The alternative would be double sessions which the community "will want to avoid."

150 Hurt, Many Are Homeless Debris Searched For More Victims

Charlotte, N. C., April 9 (AP)—Rescue workers probed debris for other possible victims today while residents along a 150-mile path through the Carolinas set about cleaning up the results of last night's deadly tornadoes.

Hundreds were homeless and many businessmen had nothing but a pile of rubble where their establishments stood at closing time yesterday.

Carolinas Hit Hard

The tornadoes struck hardest in the Carolinas, but also hit Virginia, Mississippi, Alabama and Georgia as the unstable weather conditions moved across the south.

At least six were killed, all in North Carolina, and more than 150 were injured as business buildings and dwellings were torn to shreds wherever the twisters came to earth.

Stormy weather, caused by the clashing of a cold front with warm southern air, lashed other areas of the south with damaging winds, torrential rains and hail.

Four Die in Homes

The worst of last night's tornadoes whirled their black funnels along a 150-mile strip through northeastern South Carolina and into eastern North Carolina.

Four members of two Negro farm families living across the road from each other died in their homes as a twister hit the Highsmith farms section southeast of Roseboro, N. C.

A Raleigh, N. C., couple were killed when their car crashed head-on into a truck near Raeford, N. C., during the peak of a wind and rainstorm on the edge of the tornado area.

Hospitals Filled

Hospital facilities in parts of the stricken area were flooded as injured were brought in by ambulances, private cars and trucks.

All available rescue facilities were mobilized in the Carolinas, but injured from isolated areas (Continued on Page 2, Col. 5)

Jury Acts Quickly

Physician Acquitted Of Murder

London, April 9 (AP)—Dr. John Bodkin Adams was acquitted today of a charge of murdering an 81-year-old widow to get a chest of antique silver and a Rolls Royce from her estate.

Attorney General Sir Reginald Manningham-Buller immediately quashed a secret indictment accusing Adams of killing a second wealthy patient last summer.

Faces Other Counts

Dr. Adams was allowed to walk out of the courtroom on bail but he still has minor charges hanging over him of violating the Cremation Act.

The jury of 10 men and 2 women deliberated only 44 minutes in acquitting the 58-year-old bachelor society doctor. The verdict ended a 17-day hearing in London's famed Old Bailey, the longest murder trial in British history.

Adams had been arrested after a prolonged Scotland Yard investigation into rumors that he had profited from the deaths of an unusual number of his wealthy aged patients in the seaside resort of Eastbourne.

Shows No Emotion

The 260-pound physician stood up to hear the jury's verdict. His face quivered and he gulped but otherwise he showed no emotion.

He had pleaded innocent to the crown's charge that he had pumped massive doses of heroin and morphine into 81-year-old Mrs. Edith Alice Morrell to turn her into a drug addict and finally to end her life in 1950.

Adams did not take the stand in his defense. Mrs. Morrell's body was cremated, and the verdict hinged largely on the conflicting testimony of medical experts from the prosecution and defense.

The prosecution experts said the doctor's intent could only have been to end Mrs. Morrell's life. A medical expert for the defense claimed the treatment was not unusual in such cases—the widow had suffered a stroke two years before—and that the (Continued on Page 5, Col. 6)

Passenger Vessel Is Due Later Italian, Belgian Ships After Oil

Cairo, April 9 (AP)—The two biggest tankers to use the Suez Canal since it was blocked last November entered the waterway at Port Said today—the first day the cleared channel was opened to ships of up to 20,000 tons.

One was the 19,418-ton Belgian tanker Elizabeth, the other the 20,776-ton Italian Fina Canada. They were bound for Middle East ports to pick up oil. Four other smaller ships were in the southbound convoy.

Oceania Australia Bound

The first passenger vessel to move through the canal since the British, French, Israeli invasion was due at Port Said later today to begin the 103-mile trip south to Suez. The ship is the 12,839-ton Italian liner Oceania, headed for Australia with 809 passengers.

While whistles shrieked and hundreds of persons watched from the banks, UN salvage crews raised and towed away the sunken Egyptian frigate Abukir yesterday. That cleared the channel for all shipping adapted to its 34-foot depth.

The Egyptian Suez Canal Authority followed with an announcement that the canal would be open today for ships of 20,000 tons with a draft of 30½ feet.

No Indication Given

The Authority gave no indication when capacity operation would be resumed. Before the canal blocked, ships of about 40,000 tons could go through.

The only task left for the UN salvage crews headed by American Lt. Gen. Raymond A. Wheeler was repair of lighting, communications and navigational aids and work on one wreck outside the channel.

Secretary General Dag Hammarskjöld for relay to the General Assembly. The Assembly authorized the operation after a cease-fire halted the Suez fighting five months ago.

Opened Gradually

The canal was reopened gradually to ships of increasingly larger size as salvage crews removed the sunken ships, damaged bridges and other debris that clogged it after the British, French and Israeli attack. Prior to the removal of the Abukir, passage had been restricted to ships of 10,000 tons and less.

Maj. Gen. E. L. M. Burns, commander of the UN emergency force (UNEF), and Israeli commanders met meanwhile at Ashkelon, Israel, to discuss the possibility of building a mined barrier along the Gaza-Israel border. Under consideration is the erection of two rows of barbed wire 30 feet apart, with the area between mined and lighted to discourage raiders from either side of the border.

Brig. Meir Amit, Israeli acting chief of staff, said he had accepted some UN suggestions (Continued on Page 5, Col. 5)

Whiteport Tavern Is Badly Damaged by Fire

The Whiteport Tavern, formerly Sauer's Hotel at Four Corners, in the hamlet of Whiteport, was heavily damaged by fire early this morning.

Estimate of damage to the two-story frame structure was placed at approximately $15,000.

Short Circuit Blamed

Assistant Chief Vincent Finnerty of Bloomington Fire Company said the fire apparently broke out as the result of a short circuit.

The tavern is operated by Dominick Petromale who resides there with his family. Mr. Petromale formerly operated the Roseland Tavern in Kingston.

Second Floor Gutted

The second floor, on which are located some 10 or 12 rooms, was described as "gutted." The roof was destroyed.

The fire reportedly broke out under the eaves where electric wires connect with the building. Mr. Petromale had recently completed a remodeling job on the structure and moved in. The tavern had been open to the public.

The first floor contained the barroom and five or six rooms used as living quarters.

Interior Total Loss

The walls were reported to be still standing but the interior was described as a total loss. The fire was reported to the Bloomington Fire Company about 3 a. m.

Mr. Finnerty said the owner might be able to salvage some of the knotty pine in one of the rooms but little else. He said it was impossible to get into the cellar to ascertain damage because it was flooded with water. A considerable stock of food and whiskey was reported lost.

100 Firemen Out

Approximately 100 firemen from four companies responded. At the scene was equipment from Rosendale, Tillson, Binnewater and Bloomington Fire Companies.

Newburgh Has Holdup

2 Passaic Men Will Face Grand Jury

Newburgh, N. Y., April 9 (AP)—Two Passaic, N. J., men were arrested today on charges of holding up a liquor store here and knocking the proprietor unconscious.

The men, identified by police as Joseph Mitchell, 23, of 15 Beach street, and John Sykes, 27, of 268 Passaic street, both Passaic, waived examination this morning in city court and were held to await action by the Orange County Grand Jury.

Sgt. John Murphy of the Newburgh police gave this account: Two robbers last night forced the liquor store proprietor, John Watson, 52, into a back room of the store. One of them slugged Watson in the head with a gun, knocking him unconscious.

He then was tied up with rope, and the cash register and his wallet were looted. Watson later estimated his loss at between $600 and $700.

When Watson recovered consciousness he freed himself and called Newburgh police. An alarm was sent out, and Watson was taken to St. Luke's Hospital here.

Early today, two state troopers saw two men loitering near an auto agency several miles south of here. They were seized and brought to the hospital here where Watson identified them as the robbers.

Police said they were looking for a suspected accomplice, who reportedly entered the store and inquired about the price of a life of Scotch a few moments before the holdup. He was suspected of being the driver of a getaway car.

Watson was treated for a scalp laceration which required six stitches, and was held at the hospital for X-ray examination.

Mrs. Gross Pleads Innocent in Court To Two Charges in Bidewell Home Fire

Mrs. Mary Gross, former proprietor of the Bidewell Nursing Home, 28 West Chestnut street, which was badly damaged by fire on January 24, 1957, was arraigned in County court this morning charged with violation of the Social Welfare law in that she did not have approval to operate, and on a second charge of violation of the Multiple Housing law.

At the time of the fire last January the 18 room home was badly damaged, five persons were rescued from the burning building and four others made their way to safety.

One of the occupants, Walter

S. Riel, 77, of 13 Warren street, died on January 25, at Kingston Hospital where he had been taken for treatment for monoxide poisoning.

The fire is believed to have been caused by an overheated chimney.

To both charges Mrs. Gross entered a plea of innocent. Arthur B. Ewig, her attorney, was not in court and Norman Keller appeared and asked for 20 days to make further motions in relation to the indictment. Defendant was paroled in custody of her counsel.

The sealed indictment charges violation of Section 35-A of the Social Welfare law in that she did not have approval to operate the place as a private nursing home and also that she had not complied with the Multiple Housing law under Section 26, regarding fire escapes.

Fire broke out early on the morning of January 24. Two alarms sounded and five elderly residents of the place were rescued.

Two women, Mrs. Rose Dornbusch, 76, and Mrs. Ida Baldwin, 67, were rescued from the first floor and three men were taken from the second floor. They were Walter S. Riel, 77, who died on January 25, Charles Allen, 67, of Route 3, Kingston and Marshall G. Miller, 67, a former fire alarm superintendent (Continued on Page 5, Col. 7)

Ambulance Crash Suit Ends With Verdicts of $115,000

Jess Puccio of Highland, individually and as administrator of the estate of his wife, Josephine Puccio, was awarded verdicts totaling $115,000 late Monday evening in Supreme Court against Vassar Brothers Hospital of Poughkeepsie and the driver of its ambulance, and the Ruvo Lumber Company of Newburgh and its driver.

No cause verdicts were returned against Thomas J. Walsh of Poughkeepsie and Consolidated Iron and Metal Company of Newburgh.

Jess Puccio brought actions against Vassar Brothers Hospital of Poughkeepsie for injuries which he suffered and for the death of his wife, Josephine Puccio, who was fatally injured on July 13, 1957, while they were en route to the hospital in an ambulance which was conveying them from a previous accident near Milton. The driver of the ambulance Charles M. Sickler was also named as a defendant. Actions were also brought by Puccio against the two Newburgh firms, owners of trucks which were allegedly involved in the first accident, and the drivers of the trucks.

When the jury reported to Supreme Court Justice Hamm at 9:30 o'clock Monday evening, after having deliberated since 11:05 a. m., the following verdicts were returned:

Exams Scheduled May 11 for Police Promotions Here

A civil service examination for police department promotions, slated for May 11, is expected to attract a large number of patrolmen as candidates, for the position of sergeant, it was indicated today.

Tests are to be given also for the lieutenant posts and for the position of deputy chief which is now temporarily filled by Robert F. Murphy.

Two of six sergeants, Grover S. Hoffay and Charles A. Hoehing, recently became lieutenants, and left vacancies in that rank.

Two Eligible

Lt. William H. Messing, along with Deputy Chief Murphy, whose appointment is currently provisional, is also eligible to take the examination for the deputy chief post. The recently appointed lieutenants have not held the new rank long enough to qualify for the forthcoming civil service test.

An eligibility list is due to be compiled as the result of an examination earlier this year for patrolmen. The department, it was announced some time ago, could use at least 10 new patrolmen. A civil service test in 1956 resulted in eligibility list of less than half of the men needed by the department.

Four in Line

The four remaining sergeants, Lemuel F. Howard, Francis J. Fagan, Carl C. Janasiewicz, and Thomas Tomshaw, are expected to take the examination to establish an eligibility list for promotion to the lieutenant post when a vacancy or vacancies occur.

Police Chief Raymond VanBuren said today that only a few applications have been received, to date, for the various tests, but candidates have until April 18 for filing their applications.

An examination for permanent appointments to various positions in the city laboratory are due to be held also on May 11. The tests will be mainly for the filling of positions now held on a provisional basis.

Man Is Captured After Uptate Robbery

Schenectady, N. Y., April 9 (AP)—A man clad in a woman's coat held up a supermarket today and fled with about $700. Police said they captured him half an hour later in the ladies' room of a restaurant.

Police said Francis Donovan, 32, of Boston, entered the Original Supermarket and poked a toy pistol into the ribs of two customers and Manager John McCutcheon.

He forced McCutcheon to open a safe and give him the $700, police said.

McCutcheon said he knew the bandit was a man, despite the coat and a bandana on his head. He needed a shave.

Local Death Record

Alfred H. Schraeder

Alfred H. Schraeder, 46, of High Falls died in this city Monday. Surviving are his parents, Edward and Augusta Nickel Schraeder of High Falls; an aunt, Mrs. Matilda Schmidt of Queens, L. I. and several cousins. Funeral services will be held at Francis J. McCord Funeral Home, 99 Henry street, Thursday at 2 p. m. A burial will also be held Wednesday at 8 p. m. Burial will be in Montrose Cemetery. Friends may call at the funeral home at any time.

Mrs. Emma Fredericks

Funeral services for Mrs. Emma Fredericks, 15 Janet street were held Saturday at 2 p. m. from George J. Moylan Funeral Home, Main street, Rosendale, and were largely attended. Services were in charge of the Rev. Dr. Frank L. Gollnick, pastor of Trinity Lutheran Church. During the time the body reposed at the funeral home, many relatives and friends called to pay their respects and to offer condolences to the bereaved family. Friday night members of the Women's Club of Rosendale called to pay their respects to their former member. Burial took place in Rosendale Plains Cemetery where Dr. Gollnick conducted the committal services.

Emma Anna Wustrau

Emma Anna Wustrau of Magdeburg, Germany, who was on a visit to her son, Walter E. Wustrau of Accord, died Monday at the home of her son. She had been in this city four weeks. E. she is survived by a daughter, Mrs. Gertrude Bahlke of Germany; a sister, Mrs. Anna Knabbe of Germany and a brother, Ernst Reuter of Germany. Ten grandchildren and six great grandchildren also survive. Funeral will be held from H. B. Humiston Funeral Home, Kerhonsk on Thursday at 1 p. m. with the Rev. George Wood of the Rochester Reformed Church officiating. Burial will be in Accord Rural Cemetery.

Wilbur Elting

Wilbur Elting, 61, of Modena road, New Paltz, died Monday evening at his home, after a short illness. Mr. Elting was born in Milton but had lived in New Paltz the last eight years. He was employed at Sunshine Orchards. He is survived by his wife, the former Mildred Smith; two daughters, Mrs. Clara Brown of New Paltz and Mrs. Mildred Anderson of the Bronx; a sister, Mrs. Jennie Bennett of Saugerties and a brother, Robert Elting of Newburgh; also, five grandchildren. Funeral services will be held Thursday, 2 p. m. at Pine Funeral Home, New Paltz, with the Rev. John E. Swords of Modena Church officiating. Burial in the New Paltz Rural Cemetery. Friends may call at the funeral home Wednesday evening.

Pavlidis Fair Today.

Police Continue Probe
Charles Pavlidis, 52, of 76 St. James street, proprietor of the Midtown Chop House, 666 Broadway, who was the victim of an assault outside of his restaurant early Sunday, was reported in fair condition at the Benedictine Hospital today. Police investigation was still in progress today to determine the person or persons responsible for the assault. Pavlidis suffered a rib fracture, a lip laceration and injuries to the face and nose. Officers William Slover and Leonard Ellsworth, who investigated immediately after the assault was reported at 1:33 a. m. Sunday, said there appeared to be no witnesses, but a license number was taken, and apparently figures in the investigation. It was indicated that the restaurant owner was assaulted after he had put out an intoxicated man, who was attempting to sleep in the place.

Two Ex-Leaders Of Union Plead Guilty to Charges

New York, April 9 (AP)—Two former union leaders, ex-mobster George Scalise and Sol Cilento, have pleaded guilty to union welfare racket conspiracy charges.

Each faces a possible maximum sentence of three years in prison.

The two men made a surprise switch in their pleas from innocent to guilty yesterday as they were about to go on trial in General Sessions court.

Chief Asst. Dist. Atty. Alfred J. Scotti said: "This is the first conviction involving racketeering in union welfare funds in this state."

Scotti added that it also was the first time since a new state law took effect in September, 1953, that a union official—Cilento—was convicted of conspiring to receive a bribe.

Gives $229,000 Figure

The prosecutor said various principals in the racket netted $229,000 in two years.

Judge John A. Mullen continued each sentencing on May 8 on their pleas of guilty to conspiracy and bribery charges.

Scalise, 62, a convicted white slaver, was an associate of the late Al Capone. Scalise was ousted years ago as president of the old Building Service Employees International union. He has served prison terms for theft of union funds and income tax evasion.

Cilento, 58, was ousted some time ago as secretary-treasurer of the Stillery, Rectifying and Wine Workers International union.

Scalise and Cilento were charged with receiving kickbacks from Louis B. Saperstein, of Newark, N. J., an insurance company agent. They were to have gone on trial on charges of accepting $80,094 bribes in the welfare fund racket.

The indictment charged that the money was in return for giving Saperstein's insurance firm, union welfare contract covering health, accident and life insurance. Saperstein was an agent for the Security Mutual Life Insurance Co., of Binghamton, N. Y.

Do Not Admit Charge

In pleading guilty to two counts of the 17-count indictment, Scalise and Cilento did not admit the charge that they accepted the $80,094 from Saperstein in a period of a little more than a year from the time the antibribery statute became effective.

When investigation of the welfare racket started, Saperstein balked at key questions. But after receiving a five-year sentence for contempt, he began to cooperate. His term, which then was cut to one year, is still hanging over him.

In March last year—13 months after Scalise and Cilento were indicted here—Saperstein was hit with four bullet wounds in a time. Scalise and Cilento denied any knowledge of the mysterious shooting.

Metesky's Trial Off Because of Health Reasons

New York, April 9 (AP)—The prosecution announced today that it would not ask for actual trial of George Metesky, accused as New York's city's "Mad Bomber," until Metesky is physically able to face the court.

"The statement was made by Asst. Dist. Atty. Alexander Herdman after he had asked Judge Thomas Dickens, in General Sessions Court, to order a special jury panel "if this case ever goes to a jury."

Defense counsel asked that all proceedings be delayed until Metesky's physical condition is stabilized, and Judge Dickens reserved decision on the special panel motion. It was disclosed yesterday that Metesky, 54, of Waterbury, Conn., had lost a considerable amount of blood Sunday from a lung hemorrhage last week. Bellevue Hospital physicians said Metesky was suffering from a recurrence of tuberculosis, bearing out the promoter's contention that he has suffered from the disease for years. Today a Bellevue Hospital spokesman described Metesky as "a very sick man."

Metesky has been a patient in the hospital's psychiatric ward since shortly after his arrest last January on charges that he was the man who had planted homemade bombs in public places around the city for the past 16 years.

Ancient City Council, 21, Royal and Select Masters, will hold a stated assembly in its secret vault, Masonic Temple, Thursday evening. This will be a business meeting. Refreshments will be served after the close of the assembly. All Select Masters are cordially invited to attend.

A regular stated convocation is scheduled for Rondout Commandery 52, Wednesday at 7:30 p. m. in its assembly, 31 Albany avenue. The Order of the Temple will be conferred on a full class of candidates. There will be refreshments and a social hour at the end of the session. Any Knights Templar visiting in the area are welcome.

Still Object of Search

Tehran, Iran, April 9 (AP)—Dead or alive, the bandit chief Dadshah remains the object of a vast manhunt in southeast Iran. Two radio transmitters were flown to the area today to tighten up communications between patrols. A national police spokesman said Iran still lacks confirmation of a report from Pakistan that the outlaw leader, whose band massacred three Americans and two Iranian companions March 24, was killed in a fight last week with Iranian police.

World News in Brief

Queen Tours Paris

Paris, April 9 (AP)—Looking a bit tired from her strenuous arrival day, Queen Elizabeth II was driven through crowded streets today to pay her respects to the 2,000-year-old city of Paris.

In fluent French broadcast throughout the nation, the 30-year-old British monarch told an applauding audience at the Hotel De Ville (the city hall) "your capital is a home away from home toward which, at each new generation, the United Kingdom has sent its elite, attracted by the radiance of your science, spirit, art and good taste."

'Payoffs' Probed

Washington, April 9 (AP)—The Senate Rackets Committee dug deeper today into what Sen. Mundt (R-S.D.) called "crooked, under-the-table payoffs" to labor union officials and others in the New York city area.

Mundt, a committee member, told a reporter public hearings expected next month will show that "thousands of workmen and the buyers of homes in two Long Island housing developments 'all were gypped' by a sort of chain reaction in corruption."

Elkin Makes

when Mr. Elkin presented the certificate from the county clerk to the board and asked to be seated for his full two-year term.

Writes for Ruling

Mr. Stapleton reported that he had written to the New York State Attorney General's office asking for an official ruling on the Elkin case.

Mayor Eugene Glusker (D) closed the discussion with the explanation that the board must follow the advice of its attorney and await an official ruling.

Mr. Elkin, who polled the highest number of votes of any trustee candidate in the recent election, introduced a number of resolutions.

Alone on Parking

He moved that the mayor appoint a committee to investigate ways and means of obtaining a centrally located parking lot. The mayor appointed Mr. Elkin as a committee of one to make the investigation.

Mr. Elkin also raised the question of a village manager, offering a resolution that the matter be investigated. The mayor pointed out that on April 24 certain state officials were going to the village to discuss the formation of a planning commission and other matters and that further information would be available at that time on the question of village manager.

Hearing Thursday

Mr. Elkin also introduced a resolution that the present water improvement plans be brought up to date and presented in referendum in separate parts. It was explained by Mayor Glusker that progress was being made and that an item in the budget would offer the public an opportunity to discuss aspects of the plan at a public hearing Thursday night.

Mr. Elkin also offered a motion that there always be a public hearing on expenditures of any money in excess of $10,000 if the expenditure had not already been provided for in the budget. There was no second to the motion.

A motion by the village board member that the attorney take action to effect a cleanup of Buchsbaum fire debris overflowing on Market and Center streets was adopted.

Mayor Glusker called attention to a bill passed by the Legislature and awaiting the governor's signature whereby villages in the state would be absolved from any suits for damage from people walking on village sidewalks. The following bids were received on the proposed pumping station:

mittée ordering a start of contempt proceedings against Munzio J. Squillante, a former garbage collection operator on Long Island.

Would Cancel Permits

Washington, April 9 (AP)—An examiner recommended today that the Interstate Commerce Commission move to cancel operating permits of truck lines refusing to handle freight labeled "hot cargo" by the teamsters' union.

A "hot cargo" clause is incorporated in most teamsters' union labor contracts. Under such clauses, employers agree their workers may refuse to handle goods held by the union to be "unfair" or "hot."

Asks UAW Parley

Atlantic City, N. J., April 9 (AP)—The leadership of the United Auto Workers called on the union's constitutional convention today to authorize a special convention next January to shape 1958 bargaining demands. Before adopting a resolution to that effect, the convention heard Vice President Leonard Woodcock say that "the gigantic problem of job dispersal" caused by plant decentralization will have to be considered in 1958 contract talks.

Six Die . . .

straggled in hours after the terrifying twister hit isolated areas. Communication and power lines were torn down, trees uprooted and buildings demolished.

Damage in Millions

No immediate estimate of damage was available from the vast area hit in the Carolinas, but it obviously ran into the millions.

North Carolina felt the added terror of having the tornadoes strike in the darkness. The first South Carolina community was hit shortly after 6 p. m., and the storm hurried North Carolina until after 9 p. m.

A tornado struck the Norfolk area about 5:20 p. m., ripping roofs from buildings and tearing down wires. Norfolk was particularly without power for an hour.

Hit Before Dawn

The twister banged into northern Mississippi before dawn yesterday and wrecked more than $100,000 worth of property before moving eastward into Alabama, Georgia and the Carolinas.

More than 70 persons were injured at Falkville, Ala., and the storms also hit Hamilton, Winfield and Grayson, Ala. Five were hurt at Hamilton.

A tornado cut a zig-zag path through a mountain farm area between Calhoun and Fairmont in northwest Georgia. Five were hurt and houses and textile buildings seriously damaged. Wind storms and hail also lashed south Georgia, injuring at least two persons in Telfair county. Crop damage was feared heavy.

The twisters first hit the Carolinas at Jefferson, S. C., a community of 650 some 45 miles southeast of Charlotte.

The roaring funnel marched down the main street, damaging 23 of the 25 buildings, most badly. Miraculously, only a few were hurt there; only one hospitalized. The storm lasted five minutes.

Radio Engineers Meet Wednesday

The Institute of Radio Engineers, Mid-Hudson Subsection, Kingston Group, will meet Wednesday at 8 p. m. at Lake Katrine Grange Hall, Lake Katrine.

At that time R. A. Henle of the IBM Poughkeepsie Research Center, will speak on "Transistor Switching Circuits." This talk will discuss the switching characteristics of the junction transistor. The present trends in transistor circuit design will be reviewed and the characteristics of new drift type transistors and the design considerations for millimicrosecond switching circuits will be included.

There will also be election of Kingston Group officers at the meeting.

Three Rooms Burn

Three rooms in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Johnston of Lomontville were damaged by fire last Saturday night. The fire reportedly originated in the kitchen, pantry and a bedroom were estimated at several thousand dollars. Responding were the Lomontville, Stone Ridge and Hurley fire companies.

Financial and Commercial

New York, April 9 (AP)—The stock market widened its gains in fairly active trading early this afternoon.

Pivotal stocks in most major divisions made gains of fractions to a point or better.

The market was slightly higher at the start, kept to the upside in moderate trading, then pushed further ahead as transactions became more lively.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks at noon was up 50 cents at $176.50 with the industrials up $1.00, the rails up 40 cents and the utilities unchanged.

On the American Stock Exchange change prices were generally higher in moderate trading.

Corporate bonds rose in fairly good turnover.

U. S. Government bonds eased in light transactions over the counter.

Malayans Watch Reds as Freedom Program Shaping

Kuala Lumpur, Malaya, April 9 (AP) — Communists and the threat of communal war are a major concern of Malayans preparing to celebrate freedom from British rule.

The festivities are planned for the last week in August, and Malayans hope Princess Margaret will be on hand to represent Queen Elizabeth II.

But while all this is going on, Malayans will keep an eye peeled for Communists against whom they have been warring for more than nine years.

Terrorists Carry On

Despite the killing or capture of jungle Communists in the last year, the terrorists still carry on, aided by town and village people, mostly Chinese.

The granting of self-government to Malaya by Britain did not help solve the Communist situation. Neither did an offer of amnesty to the Reds by Malaya's chief minister, Prince Abdul Rahman.

About 3,000 Communists remain in the Malayan jungles of an estimated 5,000 who started the war in June 1948.

The Reds started the war against colonialism, but today it is a war against something else. Just what nobody seems to know — except that it keeps about 150,000 British, Australian, New Zealand, Gurkhas and Malayan military men and constabulary at work in the jungle. Colonialism meanwhile has gone, or will have disappeared entirely by Aug. 31, when Malaya gets self-rule.

Raid Without Reason

The Communists, under the leadership of Chin Peng, secretary general of the Malayan Communist party, have little hope of winning a People's Republic of Malaya. But they fight, making desultory estate raids apparently without reason.

To keep on fighting the Communists will cost Malaya money. British grants totaling almost 92½ million dollars in the next five years have been promised Malaya for this purpose. Even so, Abdul Rahman is said to have considered asking the United States for financial help.

Internal Strife Threat

But communism is not the only sort of trouble apt to beset Malaya once freedom is theirs. Communal trouble may overshadow that of communism.

There are 6,363,853 million people in Malaya. They are divided this way: Malays 3,092,788; Chinese 2,413,325; Indians and Pakistanis 759,753; Europeans 16,940; Eurasians 12,854; and "others," meaning original jungle inhabitants, 68,193.

There has been blood between the Malays and the Chinese for years. This has flared

Downsville Tunnel Blast Injures Five

Downsville, N. Y., April 9 (AP) — A dynamite explosion deep inside a tunnel that will connect two huge reservoirs injured five workmen last night.

Two men were hospitalized. The others suffered minor injuries.

State police said a crew of 16 was washing out holes where explosives had misfired when less than a half stick of dynamite, with primer attached, blew up. The blast occurred 300 feet underground and about 6,000 to 7,000 feet from the east entrance of the tunnel, now under construction.

The tunnel, which was not damaged, will link New York city's Papacton dam here, on the east branch of the Delaware river, with Cannonsville dam being built on the west branch.

Low Jensen of Roscoe and Elmer James of Livingston Manor were reported in fair condition at a hospital in Liberty.

Treated for minor injuries were Jack O'Connor of Long Eddy, Floyd Hubert of Hankins and Floyd Duston of Hancock.

occasionally into communal fighting, last in Penang last January.

Responsible people in Penang, Kuala Lumpur, Malacca, Ipoh, Alor Star and other parts of Malaya fear new outbreaks will follow independence. Communal fighting, which usually takes place in the cities, is much more bloody than the desultory jungle war against the Reds.

Child Health Clinic

A child health conference conducted by the Ulster County Health Department will be held at the Tumor Clinic Building, Broadway, Kingston, Tuesday, April 16 at 1:30-2:30 p. m. These clinics are limited to infant and pre-school children for the purpose of improving child health through early recognition of defects, advice regarding nutrition, instruction of parents in understanding of growth and development, handling of minor behavior difficulties and the administering of immunizations for smallpox, diphtheria, tetanus and whooping cough.

STYLED TO SMART EASTERN TASTES

"It has a look that really grows on you!"

SHE: You know, honey, the more I look at the new Olds, the better I like its looks.

HE: You bet, it's a beauty . . . and really put together. They sure build 'em right at Oldsmobile.

SHE: Just imagine it out in front of our place! It's so distinguished . . . and look at the upholstery. It's simply beautiful!

HE: Yes! And all the new Olds have that big Rocket Engine this year. You know, the boss let me drive his the other day, and boy-oh-boy what a ride! It really steps.

SHE: Bill . . . think we can afford one?

HE: I don't see why not. From all I hear, Oldsmobile prices start down where anybody who's going to buy a new car can afford one.

SHE: Well, we've always wanted an Olds . . . what in the world are we waiting for!

PROGRESS ALOFT

Nearly 100,000 aircraft, including commercial, private and military planes, are in operation in the United States today. This may not seem like a very large number when compared with the millions of cars and trucks that crowd our highways. The fact is, however, that the skies are becoming crowded enough to create a severe and growing problem of air traffic.

Supervising some 20 million takeoffs and landings a year, and keeping the planes in the clear when they are aloft, is a tremendous job. Much of the job is now being done with equipment that is not up to the demands made upon it.

It is encouraging to be able to report that a great improvement in the nation's system of air traffic control is in the making. Congress is responding at last to the cumulative pressure of accident and "near miss" reports. The Civil Aeronautics Administration is getting started on a three-year modernization program that will help the nation catch up with its rapidly expanding air traffic.

It has just been announced that 452 near-collisions in the air were reported in the last four months of 1956. That is an average of almost four per day. This underscores the urgency of improving our system of air traffic control, which will have even greater demands made on it as more and more fast jets take to the skies.

The CAA contemplates installing long-range radar and other flight safety equipment in all major airports. Electronic brains are being developed to keep close tabs on air traffic, and to issue precise instructions. These and other improvements must be pushed without delay if control is to keep abreast of traffic overhead.

STREETS ARE FOR CARS

For some reason unfathomable to the adult mind, boys seem to consider a paved street the ideal spot for a game of baseball. They would much rather play in the street at imminent danger of becoming bumper fodder, than walk two blocks to the nearest playing field.

More adults of reasonable intelligence consider this unacceptable. But many of them—and this includes some good parents who wouldn't dream of letting Johnny go to bed without brushing his teeth—do nothing to discourage the use of streets as playgrounds.

This might be understandable in some big city areas where there is not enough play space to go around. Fortunately, that is not the case in most American towns. Where there are playing fields within easy reach, permitting youngsters to play in the streets comes close to being criminal negligence.

RANK DOES NOT WARRANT RISK

As he moves about the countryside in his official car, a President of the United States can become preoccupied and not realize how fast he may be traveling.

We must assume something like that happened when his Secret Service driver recently violated the speed laws in taking the President to his Gettysburg farm.

But while it is doubtful he deliberately sought to break the law, there can be no excuse for carelessness in a matter so vital.

The President's own traffic safety committee said a while back that the "responsibility for behaving sensibly in traffic is shared by all of us." His stature at the head of the safety movement is visibly weakened if he does not practice what he preaches.

Actually, altogether too many public officials and campaigning politicians, indulge in high-speed travel on the open road—without police escort. Seventy and 80-mile-an-hour speeds are common in election years.

Children, ordinary motorists and others most of the time can't tell an official car from any other. They are entitled to the full protection of all traffic laws. They should not be asked to be on guard against

'These Days'

By GEORGE SOKOLSKY
RADIO AND TELEVISION

It never fell to my lot to see much of television or listen often to radio until I became ill when I was given one of those portable television machines which take up little space. So I have become acquainted with what is on the airways at different hours of day and night.

Not having seen too many movies in my fairly long life, I find the various late shows and late shows novel and even interesting, but I do resent the introduction of sung advertising, particularly as the words are usually stupid and the music a vile corruption of tunes in the public domain.

I find the "$64,000 Question," the "$64,000 Challenge," "21" and the Edgar Bergen show interesting because I try to answer the questions to see whether my memory holds up, particularly in the field of useless information. Charles Van Doren and Robert Strom, the latter being 10 years old, have added culture and intellectual honesty to these shows. Some of the memorizers are nothing more than that, reminding me of a fellow I knew who was an immigration service interpreter and could use dozens of languages but who barely earned a living because he only had a memory but no common sense.

It would be interesting if a psychologist would give some of the memory questions an intelligent twist, which means asking why this is so and could not be otherwise. Both Van Doren and Strom have met that challenge. When Vivian Kellems was on the "$64,000 Question," I thought she answered correctly; there was a fracas on the stage and Miss Kellems was not permitted to go forward. I telephoned to the producer of the show and he promised to send me a transcript so that I might study the questions and answers. No transcript ever arrived. It was a stupid oversight. I questioned Miss Kellems and found that the show in which she participated was not altogether unrehearsed and that there was some prior discussion as to the limits of the questions.

Radio still has the virtue of hearing the voice but not seeing the face. Some faces are better not seen. The constant repetition of small news items from the press services is a bore. Original news rarely is gathered on radio. Anybody can read an item from a wire service such as the Associated Press, the United Press or the International News Service. Well edited newspapers give the source of such material and the radio should do the same. Those who read this copy are hired for their voices.

The American Broadcasting Company is famous for its controversial broadcasts. It has made itself attractive to commentators who feel that they have something to say and who usually develop a following of devoted listeners who either love or hate them. Although these commentators are not paid fabulously, A.B.C. is attractive because it does not interfere with the content of the material and therefore the commentators do more work than is usual as free men like to work in intellectual freedom. Also A.B.C. rarely cancels out time to make room for some triviality called a spectacular. When they do that, they usually hear from the offended commentators' followers.

Should A.B.C. change this policy, its radio will become as dull as the unpopulated copy of its competitor taken from the wire services. Radio is still the better medium for speech and for ideas and it is likely to remain that because television is of the theatre not the forum. Unfortunately the female advertisers have invaded radio with the jingles and jangles but on radio one does not have to see them which is an advantage.

Surely, one need not see water swirling in a washer to know that the business of a washing machine is to wash something. As to what kind of a cosmetic a girl has to use to catch a man, the less said about it the more attractive the girl. If I were a young man, after watching television, I would imagine that every girl wears a false face and tricky hair and even at my age, I prefer that half of the girl's hair that does not stay in place to the other half of her hair which looks like something made for a plastic robot. At any rate, watching the television commercials adds nothing to the romantic outlook on life. (Copyright, 1957, King Features Syndicate, Inc.)

By JAMES W. BARTON, M.D.
CANADIANS ARE LIVING LONGER

It is gratifying to learn from recent statistical data gathered by the Metropolitan Life Insurance Company that the average length of life in the general population in Canada increased to a new high of 70.1 years in 1955, practically identical with that of the United States. This record for Canada represents a gain of almost four years in a decade and of fully nine years since 1930-32, when the average was only about 61 years. These new tables should interest us as I believe everyone has some curiosity as to about how long he may be expected to live, on the average.

In Canada, as in many other countries throughout the world, the expectation of life at birth has been increasing more rapidly for females than for males. Thus, in 1955, the expectation of life at birth was as high as 73 for females and 67.6 for males. Just 25 years ago, the corresponding figures were 62.1 years and 60.0 years respectively so that when the females had the edge even then, it was not nearly as great.

Infants and children have benefited most from the progress in life conservation but young adults have also made substantial gains. Since 1930-32, the average remaining life time among males at age 20 increased 21 years; at age 35, the gain was one year. Among women at these ages, the increases were about three times as large. The gain in life expectancy decreases with age yet a man now at age 65 can look forward to 13.3 additional years of life and a woman to 15.5 years.

More than 70 years of life remains to girls of preschool age and more than fifty for women at age 25. The average age at death is now at least 75 years for all females who survive infancy. Among men, however, 75 years is the expected age at death only for those who attain the age of 54.

The death rate for children and young adults in Canada is now at an extremely low level. The death rate among males is less than one per 1,000 for ages 5 through 14 years; among females only one per 1,000 from age 4 to 28. Although the rate rises with the advance in age, it remains below 5 per 1,000 until age 46 in males and age 51 for females.

Although life expectancy in Canada for the past few decades has been about the same as in the United States, differences appear when the figures for the two countries are examined by age. The chances of survival during infancy and childhood are somewhat better in the United States than in Canada. On the other hand, Canadians have a slight advantage with respect to expectation of life at the adult ages.

Washington News

BY PETER EDSON

NEA Washington Correspondent

Washington—(NEA)—U. S. ground forces in Korea will be built up and re-equipped with modern weapons some time within the next 18 months or two years.

The exact method or timing have not yet been decided on. But the move will definitely be made, it has been learned from authoritative sources.

Contrary to general opinion, the delay in modernizing U. S. forces in South Korea to match the Communist build-up in North Korea has not been due to any feeling that the United Nations must abide religiously by every letter and comma of the 1953 Korean armistice agreement.

The Red build-up north of the cease-fire line and buffer zone has given every justification for matching reorganization of forces in the south.

The delay in modernizing UN forces under American high command in South Korea has been entirely a problem of logistics. Modern weapons aren't being produced fast enough to give them to everybody, all at once. This is the situation:

THE U. S. ARMY is now reorganizing all its ground forces. The 19 World War II-type triangular divisions are being converted into 17 of the new pentagonal divisions, trained for atomic and missile warfare. In this process each of the old divisions of about 18,000 men is being cut down to 13,500 men.

There are two of the old-line divisions in Korea—the 24th and the 7th. The sad fact is that they are still equipped with weapons which are no longer being produced in quantity because they are considered obsolete.

The Army would like to rotate these divisions. The only way it can be done is to replace them with newly trained divisions equipped with modern weapons. The problem is that reassignment of new divisions to Korea must wait on the supply and training of all divisions with the new weapons.

When the time comes for making the switch, the liberal interpretations which the Communists forces in North Korea have applied to Article 13-D of the armistice agreement will be used by the United States.

The Communists simply declared that the weapons which were used in the Korean war are now obsolete. In rotating troops, the Reds then moved in units armed with new weapons. Rotation of up to 35,000 men a month is authorized by the armistice agreement.

THE UNITED STATES is at liberty to follow the same pattern. Careful timing is of course necessary. The case will have to be presented to America's allies in Korea and to the United Nations.

Captured Stained Glass!
St. Mary's Church in Fairfield, England, was built by Sir John Tame in 1496 for the sole reason that he owned a shipload of stained glass, captured in a privateering expedition on a ship bound for Rome in 1493. When he felt death approaching, he ordered a church built in which the glass could be utilized. The 28 windows of the church still contain the original glass, captured a year after Columbus landed in the New World.

Beck's Lack of Red Taint Called Handicap in Defense

By DAVID LAWRENCE

Washington, April 9 — Poor Dave Beck! He's being maligned from one end of the country to the other, and his defenders are scarce—if, indeed, there be any. Yet if he had only had some taint of Communist connection in his record, he would today have many eloquent apologists.

The supporters would have been legion who would have denounced anyone for even suggesting that taking the Fifth Amendment under those circumstances implies guilt. From the pens of the editorial writers of at least three leading newspapers in the East there would have flowed indignant words—that a man was being "pilloried without being tried in a court of law."

The cry would have been raised that here is a Senate investigating committee which is trying to do what the courts are supposed to do. There would have been pointed complaint that this was "assassination by insinuation," that the charges had not been proved in a court of law and hence no judgment should be made thereon—at least not on the word merely of a Senate investigating committee whose "innuendoes" were not a substitute for "due process of law."

Beck's Mistake

Dave Beck made the mistake of handling his union's funds in ways that have brought condemnation—but they seemed to him to be right and, if they weren't, well, he intended to pay back any sums borrowed or appropriated. He says there are undisclosed details.

This is a serious matter, of course, but, if Beck had only once been a member of a Communist cell, he would be defended today as just someone who committed a "youthful indiscretion" or a mistake of the emotions due to "economic conditions," and so forth.

Poor Dave Beck! He made the wrong kind of mistake. If he had helped the enemies of his country by preaching their side of the case, he would have been able to take the First Amendment as well as the Fifth. If he had been a member of a Communist cell, he would be defended today as just someone who committed a "youthful indiscretion" or a mistake of the emotions due to "economic conditions," and so forth.

Millions of words have been poured out in a spirited defense of persons who were asked by Congressional committees or security boards to explain their curious presence at "Communist front" meetings or their contributions to such causes even after the Soviet Union joined Hitler in the early stages of the last war. Judging by the tenor of "liberal" doctrine in recent years, Americans who have been criticized for being on the Communist side have been "unjustly treated" by Congressional committees.

He's Unfortunate

But Dave Beck is unfortunate. Had he been even a lukewarm advocate of Communist causes, he would have had on his side today a Senator or two demanding that the investigating committee itself be investigated.

No court of law has yet pronounced Dave Beck guilty of any crime. For the last several years much stress has been laid on the fact that a man is "innocent until proved guilty" in a court of law. This is supposed to be American fair play. Often the rule is quoted—it's as old as any of the principles of Anglo-Saxon jurisprudence. But without waiting to give Mr. Beck his day in court, where witnesses can be cross-examined, the teamster chief has been condemned by his fellow union leaders as well as by many of the reading public.

What has suddenly happened, therefore, to the sacred principles of justice that are so emphatically proclaimed when there's a Communist sympathizer involved? Why is no such mercy shown a mere union leader who happens to have gotten into a mixup on the handling of the funds of his own union? He says even now that the union won't lose anything in the end. Maybe he should have spent it all for "political contributions," and then nothing more would have been heard about it.

Used Poor Judgment

Certainly Dave Beck was indiscreet. He was more than that — he used poor judgment in espousing the cause of personal materialism when he might better have championed "dialectic materialism." What glory might have been his if he had then taken the Fifth Amendment! He might even have been helped by some big charitable foundation, with law school professors consoled by a research on his case. Maybe some "civil liberties" organization would be rallying to his side in a defense of the Fifth Amendment. As Ralph Waldo Emerson once wrote:

"A foolish consistency is the hobgoblin of little minds, adored by little statesmen and philosophers and divines." (Reproduction rights reserved)

Emphasis on Nuclear Weapons

British See Wars of Future Depending More on Science

BY JAMES MARLOW

AP News Analyst

Washington, April 8 (AP)—No need to feel alone if you have the feeling you don't know where you're heading because science is moving so fast in finding new ways to make war.

The British, who have had plenty of their own scientists working on weapons, have just made the astonishing admission they're only now beginning to see through the scientific fog around war in the future.

Some recent events explain what's been happening and what looms ahead.

President Eisenhower at Bermuda promised British Prime Minister Macmillan this country would supply Britain with an intermediate ballistic missile, capable of carrying a nuclear warhead 1,500 miles, when it's ready.

Time of Delivery

When will it be ready? This past week Sen. Russell (D-Ga.) said perhaps within months. That could be a year. He's chairman of the Senate Armed Services Committee which had just received secret testimony from air force officials.

This country is also developing intercontinental ballistic missiles, able to go 5,000 miles. They are further from completion than the 1,500-mile type.

Russia suddenly began warning Britain, West Germany, The Netherlands, Denmark, Norway and Greece to expect annihilation in case of war if they let the United States build atomic bases — missile bases, no doubt in their territory.

If this is the American government's plan, the public here doesn't know of it yet. Russia may have been guessing, or have had inside information through espionage, or have been expecting the worst.

Britain Startles World

But last Thursday Britain startled the world—but hardly the leaders of her allies, who must have known what was coming — by announcing she would now rely mainly on nuclear weapons and cut her traditional military establishment sharply.

It was in a white paper announcing this that the British said:

"It has been clear for some time that... scientific advances must fundamentally alter the whole basis of military planning."

"But it is only now that the future picture is becoming sufficiently clear to enable a comprehensive reshaping of policy to be undertaken with any degree of confidence."

So the British planned on having guided missiles and a reduced air force because they'll rely more on ground-to-air missiles to stop attacking planes. They have atom bombs, hope soon to have hydrogen ones. They will keep a small mobile army for emergency situations. Their greatest hope for discouraging a Russian attack will be their nuclear weapons and the nuclear power of the United States.

Others Likely to Follow

There was concern expressed here that this move by Britain might encourage other members of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization (NATO) to reduce their forces, too.

They probably will, also putting their main reliance on nuclear weapons. West Germany's Chancellor Adenauer is already calling for atomic weapons.

It is not hard for Russia, ringed now by American bomber bases, to foresee the day when she will be ringed by missile bases. But meanwhile the Russians are developing their own missiles.

Soon it will be a question: Who's scaring whom? It's possible the American allies will be scared by the closeness of Russian missiles and begin to lose interest in alliances which might invite Russia to start a war if they don't deter her.

So while a new era of defense and attack is opening, a whole new era of problems begins for the United States.

Former Tammany Officer Testifies In Parole Probe

New York, April 9 (AP)—A close friend of Tammany chief Carmine G. DeSapio was a surprise witness yesterday before the legislative committee probing the reparole of racketeer Joseph (Socks) Lanza.

The witness, city public administrator Thomas I. Fitzgerald, testified for more than an hour at a closed meeting of the Republican-controlled watchdog committee. He is a former secretary of Tammany Hall, the Manhattan Democratic organization.

Fitzgerald refused to discuss the questions asked by the committee. He did say, however, that he is a close friend of DeSapio's.

Committee Chairman William F. Horan (R-Tuckahoe) also declined to talk about the questions. But he said "no adverse inferences should be drawn" from Fitzgerald's appearance.

No Interest, He Says

Meanwhile, DeSapio said he has "no knowledge of or interest in this case."

Both the committee and acting state investigations commissioner Arthur L. Reuter are conducting investigations of the Lanza case. Reuter is an appointee of Democratic Gov. Averell Harriman.

Lanza was paroled in 1950 after serving 7 years of a 7 to 15 year sentence to Sing Sing Prison for a multimillion-dollar extortion racket at Manhattan's Fulton Fish Market.

He was seized last Feb. 5 as a parole violator for allegedly gambling, consorting with criminals and living beyond his known means. But James R. Stone, a member of the state parole board, repared him.

Appointed by Ave

A furor boiled up in the wake of Stone's action and he resigned. He had been appointed to the board by Harriman.

The governor returned last night from a Florida vacation and described as "a lot of rot" charges that paroled racketeers are being handed out without discretion.

In other developments yesterday, Reuter said he has a tape recording of an angry jail-cell tirade by Lanza. He did not disclose the contents.

The World-Telegram and Sun said, however, that Lanza vowed that, if returned to prison as a parole violator, he would "blow the whole political situation sky-high."

Denies Statement

Later, Reuter denied the newspaper's interpretation of the tape and said:

"There is no such statement in the recording and nothing which remotely approximates it."

The newspaper also said Lanza's brother also said "the man with the glasses" would take care of everything.

DeSapio, who wears tinted glasses for an eye ailment, was asked by a reporter later whether he was the "man in the glasses." "About six million people wear glasses—including a lot of Republicans," he replied. He said any idea that he is involved in the case is "silly-ridiculous."

contamination and removal of refuse.

Meat sold in health districts that conform to the code will have to bear inspection legend approved by the state health commissioner. Inspectors who stamp the meat would be in the employ of a local health agency.

The initial program will apply only to carcass meat. Standards for meat products and poultry are to be formulated.

Seek Information

State Health Commissioner Herman E. Hilleboe said yesterday that the state program had been developed to eliminate economic barriers to free the flow of meat between areas that have local inspection regulations.

A main point to be considered here is the regulation requiring that inspectors be in the employ of the local health agency. Full information is sought on this point before definite action by the county health board.

Quarles Is Approved

Washington, April 9 (AP)—The Senate approved today a series of shifts in top Pentagon posts, including the nomination of Donald A. Quarles to be deputy secretary of defense. Quarles, picked by President Eisenhower to be No. 2 man in the defense secretariat, has been secretary of the air force. His nomination to the new position was confirmed by voice vote, as were those of others. Gen. Nathan F. Twining, to be chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff succeeding Adm. Arthur W. Radford, effective in mid-August. James H. Douglas of Illinois, to succeed Quarles as secretary of the air force.

Pier Fire Checked

Hoboken, N. J., April 9 (AP)—A blaze blamed on a short circuit broke out early today underneath the bulkhead of a pier at the Todd Shipyards and smoldered for two hours before it was brought under control. Damage was confined to wooden pilings. No ships in the drydock or at the piers were affected and no personal injuries were reported. The flames never showed above the pier. Todd employees drilled holes in the cement pier at the foot of 17th street to enable Hoboken firefighters to pour water from the top, as a New York City fireboat, the James Duane, shot water underneath the pier.

dated Iron and Metal Company and Ruvo Lumber Company and the drivers of the trucks. No cause for action.

In the second death action brought by Puccio as administrator of the estate of his wife, against Vassar Brothers Hospital and the driver Sickler and Thomas J. Walsh, the jury returned a verdict of $15,000 against Ruvo and the driver and no cause against Consolidated Iron and its driver. This involved the first accident near Milton.

In the fourth action brought by Jess Puccio, individually, against Sickler and Thomas J. Walsh, the jury returned a verdict of $60,000 against Vassar Brothers Hospital and Sickler and no cause of action against Walsh.

The fifth cause of action was Jess Puccio, as administrator, against Consolidated Iron and Ruvo Lumber Company and the drivers. A verdict of $5,000 was returned against Ruvo Lumber Company and its driver and no cause of action against Consolidated Iron.

Walsh Absolved

By its verdict the jury absolved Thomas J. Walsh from blame for the collision between the ambulance and the car he was operating and also Consolidated Iron and Metal Company and its driver. Cook and Cook appeared for Ruvo Lumber Company and its driver, Donald H. McCann appeared for Vassar Brothers Hospital.

The Puccios were first injured in an accident near Milton involving the Ruvo truck which in an attempt to pass south bound traffic sideswiped the Puccio car coming north.

Directed by Markings

Mr. and Mrs. Puccio were enroute to the hospital in the Vassar Brothers ambulance after the first accident when the ambulance was in collision with the Walsh car going in an opposite direction. Walsh was driving in the center lane of the three strip roadway where traffic was directed to travel by road markings. The ambulance, driven by Sickler, crossed the white line and collided with the Walsh car. Sickler was charged with driving while under the influence of intoxicants and convicted of that charge.

Motions to set aside the verdicts were made. Decision reserved.

Station Employee Douses Pump Fire

A fire which started when a gasoline pump was knocked over at the Texaco station, Broadway and Van Buren street, yesterday afternoon was checked by an attendant at the station before serious damage resulted.

Both the fire department and police headquarters were notified of the mishap shortly after 2 p. m. The pump was struck by a car owned by Theresa Smith, of Pine Grove avenue, as it was headed out of the filling station area, firemen said.

Everett, William, of Port Ewen, an employee, quenched the blaze with a chemical extinguisher. The station is operated by J. R. Cassa, of 38 Abbey street. A similar mishap was reported there several weeks ago, and the fire was checked before it caused serious damage.

The Egyptians complained yesterday to the UN mixed armistice commission that Israeli patrols kidnapped two Arabs from the Gaza Strip April 6 and April 8.

Rumors that the UN Emergency Force now guarding the Gaza-Israel border might eventually be subject to some form of Egyptian or Israeli control brought a statement from Canadian Foreign Secretary Lester B. Pearson that Canada would withdraw her forces from UNEF if that happened.

Pearson told a dinner in Montreal that Canada has refused to agree that any state can control the UN force or decide when its task is finished.

Up to UN, He Says

"That is a matter for the United Nations," Pearson said. "If it turned out otherwise than this, this country could surely not continue to participate in it."

Pearson also urged Israel to withdraw its opposition to stationing of UN troops on its side of the armistice line.

treatment was intended only to ease her pain.

The attorney general said the quashed indictment concerned the death last summer of Mrs. Gertrude Hullett four months after her husband, a 71-year-old millionaire, died in Eastbourne.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Hullett were patients of Dr. Adams. Her death was officially recorded as suicide from an overdose of drugs, but during the preliminary hearing that led to Dr. Adams' indictment in the Morrell case, the prosecution had blamed the doctor for the deaths of both Mrs. Hullett and her husband.

Got Car in Will

"I have reached the conclusion," the attorney general said, "in all the circumstances and in the public interest it does not require Dr. Adams to undergo the ordeal of a further charge of murder."

Mrs. Hullett left Dr. Adams another Rolls Royce in her will.

The doctor still is accused of certifying, when he obtained permission for Mrs. Morrell's cremation, that he knew of no financial gain accruing to him from her death.

In summing up the testimony in the trial, Justice Sir Patrick Arthur Devlin told the jury it was up to it to decide between the conflicting testimony of the medical experts.

Algiers, April 9 (AP)—Air France officials said today 34 persons died in the flaming crash of a DC3 transport last night at Biskra in northeast Algeria.

The victims were 5 crew members and 18 Moslem and 11 European passengers. There were no survivors.

The European dead included 2 women and 2 children.

Official reports said the plane's left engine failed when the craft was about 30 feet off the ground after takeoff. The pilot apparently tried to make an emergency landing, but the maneuver failed and the plane plunged to the ground and burst into flames.

The plane was en route north from the Sahara desert region.

Following arraignment of Mrs. Gross, Francis X. Cleaver is charged with having shot his wife as she sat in a car on central Broadway last November 1. Cleaver, 22, allegedly shot his wife, Dixie May, 20, with a .22 calibre revolver and then drove off to his parents' home in Downsville where he was living.

District Attorney St. John consented to postponement of the trial until June on condition it be ready for trial at that time.

Selection of a jury in the Bobby Lee Harvin and Charles Freeman, first degree robbery case was then begun. Defendants are charged with having taken a wallet with a small sum of money from Ivan Smith of Ellenville last August 26.

DO YOU REMEMBER

By SOPHIE MILLER

I wonder how many folks remember Dave Lehner who had a shoe store and repair shop downtown. His comment about the change in style in shoes went something like this, "You throw shoes in a barrel, and when it is filled you turn it upside down and start over again, that is the way styles keep rotating."

I think we have now come to the bottom of the barrel again, for here we are with the Sunday newspapers full of pointed-toed slippers for women. One item reads: "drawn to a fine point... the freshest news afoot for spring!" That is from a 1957 March newspaper. Right before me is also an advertisement on the back of the Freeman Directory of the City of Kingston dated 1899. The advertisement is from Henkel and Deyo, fine footwear, men's and ladies' fine shoes a specialty, 31 East Strand, Rondout. You should see the pointed toes on those illustrations, exactly like the is the Pompey pump, with elastic instep, "making it a shoe that will fit the foot like a glove, very dressy," advertisement said. Only $1.49.

I wonder what the girls are going to do who have been so comfortable in the open-toe wide sandals, will they slide down into those razor-sharp pointed toes on tooth-pick heels. Only time will tell.

Going back to the boots and shoe stores of 1899 I see Sol Appel was down at 22 Broadway. Vincenz Dittmar was at 567 Broadway. John H. Haas, was at 101 Abeel street. Mrs. Hulda Harris was at 16 Broadway. Aaron Hymes was at 325 Wall street. Sol Humes was at 14 Broadway. Montayne and Co. were in the wholesale boots and shoe business at Mill and Hasbrouck avenue. Isadore Pinner was at 33 North Front street. J. Spader was at 153 Hasbrouck avenue. S. B. Thing and Co. were at 31 North Front street. Charles S. Wood was at 297 Wall street. No doubt in some attics some of those pointed shoes from the above stores still exist. Spring cleaning may bring some of them out again.

G. Washington School Council Renews Activity

The recently reorganized Student Council of George Washington School has shown an increasing amount of activity since the transfer of four seventh grades from MJM School. George Washington School now has five seventh grades.

The George Washington School accommodating all elementary grades from kindergarten through sixth since its opening in 1952, has adjusted its entire program to provide for the growing needs of the older pupils now attending.

Principal Supervises

Under the direction of Ambrose J. Boyd, principal, the Student Council meets regularly with students elected by their own groups to represent their particular grade's needs at the meeting.

In the council students learn the democratic principles of the workings of a large social group. Faculty members lend advice and assistance in helping students carry through their projects.

Robert Black of the seventh grade, presides as council president. He is assisted by Carol Oppenheimer, seventh grade, as council secretary.

Two council representatives are elected from each of the schools' two sixth grades, five seventh grades and the special class.

Serving on the council are: Wayne Reynolds, Diane Smith, Richard Hyatt, Betty Ann Locke, Peter Goldfarb, J. P. Roberts, Bruce Eyman, Patricia Holland, Paul Werbalowski, Patricia Slater, Susan Tabakman, James Rundell, Judy Munson, Ted Bream, Mae Kennedy and Jean Tome.

Major Committees

Council personnel is appointed to three major committees—school improvement, assembly programs and school activities.

One important area in which the council serves the school is in planning and directing interesting and original assembly programs in which the pupils of the school participate. Two current projects undertaken by the Student Council committee during the past month have won wide student acclaim.

The programs were patterned after popular television shows. "Name that Song" staged during the forepart of the month brought Richard Johnson, fifth grader, and John Lewis, seventh grader, into winning places. A later program, "The 64 Cent Question" awarded first place in general knowledge of New York state to Paul Werbalowski with David O'Neill as runner-up.

Last Voyage

Newport News, Va. (AP)—There was a bit of sadness when the SS Matsonia left here on her last voyage. Once queen of the Pacific tourist trade, the Matsonia carried thousands of troops in two world wars before being berthed with the idle fleet in the James river. The last voyage was to Baltimore where the Bethlehem Steel Corp., will junk her. But en route she passed her birthplace, the Newport News Shipbuilding and Dry Dock Company, a new Matsonia under construction. The new ship will have room for 761 first class passengers when she enters the Hawaiian service June 11.

Total 110 Years

Five Jurors Are Cited for Long Service Records

Five members of the Association of Grand Jurors of Ulster County whose service with the organization represents 110 years were honored during the regular monthly meeting this week at the court house.

Leading the list was Thomas J. Murphy, long-time president of the jurors, who was recognized for his faithful 23 years of outstanding service.

Three of the members—Edmund Zeidler, treasurer of the jurors; Blaine Wright and Lawrence Gaffney—all have served 22 years.

The fifth man to be honored—Attorney N. Le Van Haver, former district attorney of Ulster county—has served 21 years.

All will receive 20-year life membership cards at a future meeting.

Business Group to Hear IBM Guest

The Ulster-Albany Avenue Business Association will hold its regular monthly meeting at Cyprus Inn at 8 p. m. Wednesday with Arthur Lewis, project manager of Kingston IBM plant, as guest speaker.

Mr. Lewis, a former resident of the town of Vestal, Broome county, will speak on the problems arising in a fast-growing community "businesswise" and how such problems can be solved.

The town of Vestal had many problems similar to those of the town of Ulster, it is reported. For instance, in April, 1955, the town of Vestal passed an ordinance to regulate and license hawkers and peddlers.

Members are urged to attend. Refreshments will be served following the meeting.

Red General Dies

Moscow, April 9 (AP)—The Soviet army newspaper Red Star today announced the death of Lt. Gen. I. I. Zatevakhin, a senior instructor at the Voroshilov Higher Military Academy. Red Star said Zatevakhin died in Moscow Sunday after a long illness. He held two Orders of Lenin and many other decorations.

Nomination of John Paul Jones to the Hall of Fame was rejected in 1955.

Sawyer Members Attend Albany Science Congress

Members of two Saugerties Central School science clubs attended the ninth annual science congress at Albany recently.

Club members accompanied by Adrian Grill, David Jones and Roy Ohno, science instructors, views over 250 outstanding exhibits and lecture-demonstrations in all fields of science.

Those attending were Dorothy Balzarini, Bruce Bratten, Michael Breen, William Clements, Sally Davi, Rosemary DePoala, John East, Susan Greenspan, Sheila Hughes, Arlene Krom, Paul Kruger, Zane Lauva, Stanley Newkirk, David Overbaugh, George Popowicz, Theresa Spada, Richard Tice and Evva Turco.

Train Crash Kills 24

Capetown, South Africa, April 9 (AP)—Two crowded electric trains collided head-on late yesterday in a Capetown suburb, killing at least 24 persons. Scores were injured. Large quantities of blood from white donors were rushed to the scene. An announcement from the official blood transfusion service later said that though only "white" blood was sent, it was available to all the injured regardless of race. Blood collected by transfusion services here is separated into white and African classifications, according to the race of its source.

Marine Officer Pleads Guilty to Hitting Private

Parris Island, S. C., April 9 (AP)—First Lt. William D. Conroy pleaded guilty today to charges of hitting a young enlisted man and placed his Marine Corps career in the hands of a seven-man general court-martial at this marine recruit training base.

The court, before passing sentence, followed military procedure and permitted Lt. Conroy to offer testimony in possible mitigation of the offense.

This was the first blemish on Conroy's four-year service record.

Maximum punishment for the offense is six months' confinement and dismissal from service. This was another in a continuing series of maltreatment trials which began after six men drowned a year ago last night on a disciplinary march into a tidal creek here.

Conroy became the first officer involved in such a case since the disastrous march into Ribbon Creek last April 8. The 26-year-old lieutenant from (114-01 95th avenue) Richmond Hill, Queens, N. Y., was accused of striking Pvt. David L. Porter, and officially was charged with conduct unbecoming an officer and a gentleman.

Child Suffocates

Honeoye, N. Y., April 9 (AP)—Diane Lynne Copeland, seven weeks, suffocated in her bed clothes yesterday as she slept while visiting her grandmother Mrs. Margaret Deats of nearby Canadice Lake, Ontario county. The child was the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Copeland of Rochester.

Mid-Week Lenten Services

Clinton Methodist

What is your attitude toward death—that inescapable experience? How do you feel about it? Do you try to push all thought of death from your mind? Or do you ask yourself what a Christian's attitude toward this greatest of adventures should be?

If you would like to have help in finding some kind of sane approach to this problem which every mortal faces, you are cordially invited to be present at the Clinton Avenue Methodist Church, 122 Clinton avenue Wednesday at 7:30 p. m., when the Rev. Dr. Clyde Herbert Snell presents the final meditation in the Lenten series entitled, "This Has Helped Me." This sermon, written by Dr. G. H. Morrison, is captioned, "Christ and the Fear of Death."

The music for these Lenten services is in charge of Mrs. Harold Francis who will be at the organ. A quartet composed of Mrs. Oscar Newkirk, Miss Dorothy Snell, Richard Bunting, and Robin Henion will sing "God Be With You Till We Meet Again." Other familiar hymns to be sung by the congregation during the service will include, "Day is Dying in the West," and "If on a Quiet Sea."

Trinity Lutheran

The sixth mid-week Lenten service of Trinity Evangelical Lutheran Church, Spring and Home streets, will be held Wednesday at 7:30 p. m.

The familiar old Lenten hymns will be sung and Part VI of the History of the Passion of Our Lord will be read. The pastor, the Rev. Frank Lawrence Gollnick, D.D., will preach the sixth of a series of Lenten sermons on the general theme, "New Bridges to the Cross!" His topic will be "He Really Was the King!"

An has been the custom in the past years, there will be a special quiet time during the general prayer for individual petitions on the part of the congregation. The service will close with a Lenten litany sung by the senior choir.

The following musical program has been arranged by Donald Romme, MA, minister of music and Howard Houghtaling, organist.

Prelude, "Nun, Dass Nicht Die Letzte Stunde," Donald Romme; anthem, "I Walked Today Where Jesus Walked," Geoffrey O'Hara and postlude. The public is cordially invited to attend this service.

The senior choir will hold its regular rehearsal immediately after the church service.

St. Paul's Lutheran

The sixth in a series of mid-week Lenten services at St. Paul's Lutheran Church, 355 Hasbrouck avenue between Foxhall and East Chester street will be held, Wednesday at 7:45 p. m.

The theme of the message to be given by the pastor, the Rev. Olney E. Cook is "The Mystery of the Cross." The choir will sing a special arrangement of the hymn "Beneath the Cross of Jesus" by Maker. At the inspiration time selections from the list of favorite hymns will be used. Part six of the History of the Passion will be read. The public is invited to attend these Lenten services.

The choir will meet immediately after the service for rehearsal.

Comforter Church

Reformed Church of the Comforter, Wynkoop place, will hold its sixth mid-week Lenten service Wednesday at 7:30 p. m. with the Rev. Forrest R. Prindle, pastor.

After a series of pulpit exchanges with men of the area, Pastor Prindle returns to preach on "A Sacrifice Acceptable Unto God."

Aiding Pastor Prindle will be the choir under the direction of Mrs. Robert Brown. Mrs. Bertran K. Burr will sing the solo "Consider the Lilies" by Scott and a quartet, Mr. and Mrs. Burr and Mr. and Mrs. Arthur A. Souers, will sing "God So Loved the World" by Stainer. The organist, Miss Gloria Jane Smith, will also play "Luther's Hymn" by Stults and "The Son of God Goes Forth" by Stults as special music during the service.

The public is cordially invited to this Lenten service. Following the service, the senior choir will hold its weekly rehearsal.

Redeemer Church

The final service in the Lenten mid-week series at the Evangelical Lutheran Church of the Redeemer, Wurts and Rogers streets, will be held Wednesday at 7:30 o'clock.

The pastor, the Rev. David C. Gaise, will present another in the popular meditations on "Great Keystones of the Christian Faith," entitled, "The Last Things," dealing with life after death.

Following the traditional Lenten pattern with the reading of a penitential Psalm and the singing of Lenten hymns, the vespers service will include the reading of the history of Christ's passion and the use of the bidding prayer.

The choir of the church, directed by Leonard Stine, will present a traditional Lenten anthem and Mrs. Lester Decker will play the organ works, "Ecce Homo" by Beethoven, "O Man, Mourn for Thy Many Sins," by Dupre and "Prayer" by Hollins. The choir will remain after the service for rehearsal.

There will be no lenten service Wednesday of Holy Week. Thursday of Holy Week and Good Friday there will be services at 7:30 p. m. with the Sacrament of Holy Communion administered either evening.

First Baptist

The last of the special Lenten fellowship suppers and service will be held Thursday at 6:30 p. m. at First Baptist Church, Albany avenue at Broadway.

Guest speaker this week will be the Rev. Forrest R. Prindle, pastor of Reformed Church of the Comforter and president of the Kingston Ministerial Association.

Members of the Sunshine Guild will be hostesses at the supper program while Mrs. Irwin J. Thomas and George Chase will have charge of the devotions and prayer. Mrs. Robert Ackert will be soloist. Mrs. Arthur T. Pedersen, church organist and Mrs. Walter T. Johnson will offer a piano duet.

Mrs. Harold J. Stephanz, wife of the pastor, and Mrs. Sherwood Davis will be in charge of the children's program which this week will feature the film strip "Peppy the Pup."

The annual Maundy Thursday service will conclude the special Lenten series Thursday, April 18, at 7:30 p. m. in the church sanctuary. Holy Communion will be observed and new members will be received.

Immanuel Lutheran

The sixth in a series of special mid-week Lenten services will be held at the Immanuel Evangelical Lutheran Church, Livingston street, Wednesday at 7:30 p. m. For this final meditation the Rev. Martin P. Dienst, pastor, will speak about the Centurion who was charged with carrying out the crucifixion of Christ. The theme of the sermon will be "The Executioner's Confession." The pastor will also read the sixth part of the History of the Passion of our Lord. The public is cordially invited to attend this and all other services at this church.

Showdown for Chessman

San Francisco, April 9 (AP)—Caryl Chessman and his attorney were agreed today that the May 13 hearing before the U. S. Supreme Court will be the showdown in his fight of nearly nine years to escape execution in San Quentin. If he wins, there will be a new trial. If he loses, it's the gas chamber. He was convicted in Los Angeles of terrorizing women in "Lovers' Lanes," attempted rape and perversion.

Rochester Honored

New York, April 9 (AP)—Rochester, N. Y., was one of nine American cities which yesterday won community home achievement awards for improving and rehabilitating residential areas. Seven other cities were cited for honorable mention. The winners were among 61 entries in a national competition conducted by Look magazine, in which citizen participation in city planning was stressed. The award to Rochester was based on an independent, nonprofit apartment project coordinated with over-all city housing plans.

Phone Estimate Is Challenged By PSC Attorney

Albany, N. Y., April 9 (AP)—A Public Service Commission attorney challenges the New York Telephone Company's estimate that it would cost nearly three billion dollars to replace all company property.

The PSC resumed yesterday its hearing on a New York Telephone request for a $55,400,000 annual rate increase. John Ryan, special commission counsel, said the cost estimate was "an appraisal engineer's dream."

Philip O. Moynahan, chief appraisal engineer for the company, said the estimate of $2,987,141,858 was as accurate as possible.

The utility proposes monthly rate increases of 50 cents for partyline home phones; 65 cents for private phones and $1.50 for business phones.

The PSC reopened the case after the courts held last year that the commission must consider replacement cost of company property as a factor in determining a fair return on investment. The commission had used the lower, original cost in a decision that led to the court appeal.

Moynahan had testified that the original cost of company property was $2,091,204,000. Company testimony was entered at earlier sessions. Ryan began cross-examination of company witnesses yesterday.

Oilman Tithes Church $2 Million

Dallas, April 9 (AP)—A Texas oilman turned over two million dollars to his church as a tithe yesterday after selling his petroleum company interests in a multi-million dollar deal.

Toddie Lee Wynne of Dallas, president of the American Liberty Oil Co., signed final papers transferring Amlico stock to American Petrofina, Inc., of New York.

The gross transaction reportedly involved an estimated $35,000,000. Spokesmen said Wynne would get about $20,000,000 after payment of outstanding debts.

Ten per cent of the net, or about $2,000,000, was given to the Texas Presbyterian Foundation, the largest gift it has ever received.

Wynne grew up as a Methodist but has been a member of the Presbyterian Church since 1925. He is a prominent layman.

Bandits Miss $50,000

Geneva, April 9 (AP)—Two bandits held up a bank at Geneva's busiest corner last night and made off with nearly $10,000 in foreign currency. In their haste, they overlooked more than $50,000 worth of Swiss currency and gold coins in the safe. The masked thieves fled by car toward the French border after firing two machinegun bursts at pursuers. No one was hurt.

School Consolidation Explained

Today's Subject: Who Pays Debts of Former Districts?

(Note—This is the 16th in a series of articles on the proposed Greater Kingston Area Consolidation written by Norman Hammond of Lake Katrine and edited by four others on a committee interested in presenting an explanation about linking rural districts to the city school system.)

One of the questions which always arises in any discussion of school district reorganization is "Who pays the debts which were incurred by the old districts?"

This question points out one of the major differences between a small city consolidation and a rural centralization. In the formation of an enlarged city school district, the law prescribes that all bonded indebtedness belonging to the small districts shall be assumed by the new enlarged district. In a centralization each of the original districts must continue to pay off the bonded debt, which it owed prior to centralization, by an additional yearly tax levy over and above the tax of the centralized district.

Fair for Enlarged District. It seems to most of us that it is most fair for the enlarged district to assume the bonded debts of the individual small districts. Normally it is those districts with the largest bonded indebtedness which have provided the modern schools which the enlarged district will utilize. Usually the rural district which owes little or no bonded debt has little but children to contribute to a consolidation. The exceptions, of course, are those fortunate districts with large assessed values as compared to the number of their children.

Of the eight elementary schools to be used permanently by the consolidated district, few if any of them are fully paid for. It would be very unfair to the original owners of these schools to utilize them for the children of the whole surrounding area and not require the surrounding districts to contribute to the cost.

The City of Kingston, which has about half of the children and far more than half of the classrooms, has only a small proportion of the bonded debt. The Chambers district, Ulster No. 8, alone has considerably more bonded indebtedness than the city.

It should be remembered that the additional state aid will more than cover the cost of our building program and transportation costs. Under these circumstances the assumption of the bonded debt by the enlarged district becomes an obvious element of simple fairplay.

The next article will discuss alternatives to consolidation.

"PROTECTION" LASSES POLIO—Protection, Kan., lives up to its name by becoming the first community in the nation to initiate vaccination of all its inhabitants up to 40 years of age against polio. Mary Ann McGrew, right, 1956 Kansas finalist in the Atlantic City beauty contest, holds lasso on Glenn Maris while nurse Thelma Blackard gives him his first Salk shot.

Why Dietz Stadium Area Was Selected for School

This material has been prepared under authorization of the Board of Education of the City School District of the City of Kingston. Its purpose is to acquaint the voters of Kingston with pertinent information relative to the proposed junior high school and to answer any questions they may have concerning its need, cost, construction and location.

Q.—Why was the Dietz Stadium area selected as the site for the new junior high school?

A.—After a prolonged study of possible sites in the City of Kingston for the new Junior High School, your Board of Education chose the Dietz Stadium. Their decision was based upon the recommendation of the New York State Education Department and the many advantages this site offers. Among these advantages is the fact that a large percentage of the city children of junior high school age live within easy walking distance, thus eliminating the need for excessive transportation costs; the nearness of Forsyth Park with its 18.55 acres of park facilities for the recreational use of the children; and the availability of the stadium field for physical education and related sports.

Q.—Will the erection of the new junior high school at the Dietz Stadium do away with the stadium.

A.—No. The stadium itself will still be available for the same purposes for which it has been used in the past. The construction of a new building on the property will in no way affect the use of the stadium or the adjacent parking area. The building itself will be constructed on the elevated section of land surrounding the stadium proper and will extend over on to the adjacent property.

Reds Glad He's Leaving

Bohlen Respected for Way He Stands Up to Muscovites

Moscow, April 9 (AP)—Through four years, Ambassador Charles E. Bohlen has served as the eyes and ears of the United States in the world's most trying diplomatic post. Even the Russians respect him, but now that he is leaving, they may well be glad to be rid of him.

"What we most respect about Ambassador Bohlen," a Russian official once grudgingly admitted, "is that he never panics, even when things are touchy, and as for repartee, he gives Nikita Sergeevich (Khrushchev) a run for his money."

Never Lost a Duel

The Communist party boss ran up against Bohlen's ready wit on many an occasion in the post-Stalin years when champagne and vodka flowed like water in the Kremlin. Bohlen's admirers—and these include much of the diplomatic corps in Moscow—argue that he never lost a duel of words with Khrushchev or any of the other leaders of the Kremlin collective.

Now the U. S. State Department's top Russian expert is going to Manila, to be U. S. ambassador to the Philippines, with, as he put it, "no complaints, no squawks."

But his friends say he would have liked to stay on and watch the Russian scene a little longer.

"Chip Bohlen," said one of the other diplomats here, "must feel like an amateur detective absorbed in a murder mystery, who turns a page and finds the rest of them blank."

Stray Pieces Count

The Soviet Union has been likened to a jigsaw puzzle perched on a powder keg. In such a situation it's the stray pieces that count, and the eye to catch them.

Bohlen has gained a reputation as the ambassador in Moscow with the best background, the deepest knowledge of his subject, the most fluency in the Russian language.

Khrushchev and the other Soviet leaders will have reason to remember the easy-going, almost languid wit often displayed by the slim, athletic looking diplomat.

At a French Embassy reception Krushchev, with his usual ponderous humor, teased Marshal Georgi Zhukov for eating with such gusto.

"What do you expect?" quipped Bohlen. "You've just whacked his defense budget. Of course he's hungry."

The barb hit home. The Soviet Union for months had been trying to make propaganda capital of a lower defense outlay figure in the Soviet budget.

Chance to Understand

But the Soviet leaders often sought out Bohlen at receptions and engaged him in long, serious conversations which probably gave him a more intimate understanding of the Soviet leadership personality than any other Western diplomat has.

"Chip knows you cannot win their confidence or liking," one of his intimates says "but he also knows you cannot deal with them unless you have their respect."

Bohlen himself says he had no illusions about his talks with Kremlin leaders. Real information is scarce in a land where so much is top secret. But to Bohlen, an inveterate student of Russian affairs, the first four years after Stalin were probably the most fascinating of all Soviet history.

Tough on Successor

No successor, regardless of ability, can easily assume the position Bohlen maintained in his relations with the Kremlin.

In Moscow, an ambassador has to be a good reporter. Bohlen was eminently suited for such a job. He has a photographic memory, a student's love for history and the human factors which shape it—and he has spent 9 of the past 23 years in the Soviet Union.

His assignment as ambassador was Bohlen's fourth tour of diplomatic duty here. This assignment, beginning a month after Stalin died, spanned the convulsions of the power struggle, the de-Stalinization period, the Geneva spirit smiles offensive, the rebuilding of Stalin's reputation and the new chill which descended after the revolution in Hungary.

Twenty-six years a diplomat,

Rubber Strike Averted

New York, April 9 (AP)—A threatened strike of 30,000 employees of the U. S. Rubber Co. in 11 states has been averted by tentative company-union agreement on a new contract, a company spokesman reports. A strike had been threatened for last midnight if no agreement was reached. The tentative agreement was announced shortly before the midnight deadline after negotiators had met almost continuously through the day and night. "It certainly means there will be no strike," the company spokesman said. He also said the company had been assured by union representatives that there would be no strike call.

Spring Tonic

The "sulfur-and-molasses" theory has given way to our present-day understanding and knowledge of nutrition. For the maintenance of year-round optimal health, one must eat a properly balanced diet. Unfortunately, self-imposed diets frequently produce vitamin, mineral, and protein deficiencies.

-Lowest Priced Car with Tri-Power Carburetion!

Pontiac started 'em all talking by tagging this eye-popping Chieftain below 30 models of the low-price three. Now Pontiac has tossed another firecracker into the low-price field... with Tri-Power Carburetion available at extra cost on any model. Pontiac alone at so low a cost offers this sensational track-proved* carburetion system that has officially outperformed super-charged, and fuel injection cars. Here's how it works: For normal driving, only one of three double-barrel carburetors is in operation. When you want a safety-surge of power, press your toe and pronto!—the other two carburetors pour out a bonus of go as long as you need it. Ease up... and you're back to the gas-saving economy of one-carburetor operation! In short—your new Pontiac Chieftain can be tame or terrific—at the touch of a toe! Try it, and you'll see why they're biting their nails in the low-price field. Check the car... check the price... and all bets are that you'll graduate to Pontiac with plenty left over in your budget to celebrate the occasion!

Panel of Five Judges to Select Queen Of Page One Ball at Wiltwyck April 20

MILDRED DORIS RICHERS, 18, daughter of Mrs. Pearl Richers of 17 Staple street, is one of 35 entries received to date in the annual Page One Queen competition sponsored by the Kingston Newspaper Guild. Miss Richers, who attended Kingston High School, is active in sports and is reported to be a real performer on roller skates. She has been employed at the New York Telephone Company for the past year. Miss Richers is being entered by a new organization, Handicapped People of Ulster County, now in process of formation. Any interested handicapped person is invited to join the group which is now holding its meeting in a room provided by the Old Dutch Church. Miss Richers' coiffeur is by Pierre, hair stylist, of 738 Broadway. Her evening gown for the reception is being designed by Goldman's Dress Shop, 1 Main street.

HARRIETT ANN DIERS, 18, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Diers, 213 Abeel street. She graduated from Kingston High School, class of 1956, and is now employed by IBM. Her favorite hobby is dancing. Competition for Page One Queen is open to any young lady who is a permanent resident of Ulster county and has reached her 16th birthday but has not reached her 25th birthday when her entry is received. The entry must be married or single. She must provide her own evening dress and attire. The number of entries will be reduced to five at a reception at the Wiltwyck Country Club at 2:30 p. m. Saturday, April 20. A panel of five judges will select five finalists on basis of personality, poise, character, face and figure.

KATHERINE N. CARUSO, 22, of 36 Montrose avenue an entry in the Page One Queen competition was born in Ohioville, but has resided in Kingston for more than 20 years. In 1951 she graduated from Kingston High School where she was active in sports, a class officer, an attendant in the May Queen court and for two years served as a cheerleader. She completed a course in business administration. On May 5, 1956, she married C. P. Caruso of Kingston, a general insurance agent and sub-agent for Roland A. Augustine. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Nicolosi of 74 Florence street. Mrs. Caruso is employed as a teller at the Rondout National Bank.

SYLVIA SICHERI, 17, daughter of Mrs. Olga Sicheri, 24 Main street, Rosendale, is also among entries in the Page One contest. She is a senior at Kingston High School where she is active in many sports, especially basketball, volleyball and swimming—and she enjoys dancing. Miss Sicheri is also a member of the 1956-57 varsity cheerleading squad at KHS. The Page One Queen will be presented by the Guild, composed of the working press, business and advertising personnel of The Freeman, with a silver loving cup. She will also be the recipient of gifts from area merchants. Each finalist will receive a memento of her participation. Highlights of the ball, which will be held May 4, will be the coronation and conferring of awards on six of Ulster county's leading citizens.

Good Taste Today

By EMILY POST

(Author of Etiquette, Children and People, etc.)

SPEAKING IN THEIR NATIVE TONGUE

Today's first letter explains: "I have a friend who is of foreign descent. She and her family speak English perfectly well but every once in a while when I am visiting in their house, they will suddenly say something to each other in their native tongue. I have no understanding of this language and always feel very uncomfortable when they do this and think that they are saying something they don't want me to hear. Don't you think that this is very rude on their part? I think that when there is anyone present who doesn't understand the language they should speak nothing but English. What is your opinion of this?"

I agree with you in principal, but I cannot agree that they are showing you any discourtesy by speaking the language which they have always used when talking to each other. They undoubtedly do it without thinking.

Printed Sympathy Cards

Dear Mrs. Post: When sending a printed card reading, "The family of the late... acknowledges with grateful appreciation your kind expression of sympathy," is it necessary that this card be signed by a member of the family? I know you do not approve of printed thank-you cards but nevertheless they are sent out in many instances and I would like to know if they have to be signed?

Answer: A card such as you describe requires no signature.

Helping Oneself to Salt

Dear Mrs. Post: When open saltcellars are used at table, is it proper to take the salt from these with the fingers, or should one of the table implements be used?

Answer: If it is an individual saltcellar intended for your use alone, you may use your fingers. But if it is to be shared and there is no small spoon in it, then you would have to use whatever unused implement you have at your place.

Mrs. Post is sorry she cannot answer personal mail. Many questions arise when there is a new baby on the godparents and how to choose them, also their obligation, the christening and reception, etc. Mrs. Post explains in leaflet E-36, "The New Baby." To obtain a copy, send 10 cents in coin to Dept. EP, in care of The Freeman, P. O. Box 99, Station G, New York 19, N. Y.

Dr. John A. Cooke Jr., of St. James street, spoke on the seven danger signs of cancer.

Kayes Enjoy Program At Hebrew Home for Aged in Riverdale

Mr. and Mrs. Louis W. Kaye of Kingston were among some 1,100 guests attending the annual dinner of the Hebrew Home for the Aged, Riverdale, on Saturday night.

Guest of honor for the occasion was Simon R. Bregman, for his many years of constructive leadership of community enterprises and "especially in appreciation of his services as a member of the board of directors of the Bronx division and of the Home and as a trustee of its new building Foundation Fund and as chairman of its new infirmity building committee."

Mrs. Bregman's wife is a sister of Mrs. Kaye.

The dinner was held at the Concourse Plaza Hotel, the Bronx.

Mr. Bregman pioneered the development of many sections of the Bronx where he built large scale multiple housing and commercial properties for the expanding population in the county and in other parts of the city. He helped organize the Bronx Realty Advisory Board, was president of the organization 10 years and is now serving as its honorary president. He is a vice-president of the Building Industry League and a leading member and officer of other professional, business and civic organizations.

He has been actively identified with many religious, educational and philanthropic causes and has led many fund-raising campaigns for local, national and overseas needs. He is a member of the board of directors of the Bronx YMHA and YWHA and of the YWCA.

He is also a vice chairman of the Bronx division of the National Council of Christians and Jews and a founder of the Albert Einstein College of Medicine.

While at the dinner Mr. Kaye met Municipal Court Judge Louis Peck and was greatly surprised to learn that Judge Peck had attended Kingston High School.

Child Health Clinic

A child health conference conducted by the Ulster County Health Department will be held at the Health Center in Stone Ridge Tuesday, April 16 at 10 a. m.-12 noon. These clinics are limited to infant and pre-school children for the purpose of improving child health through early recognition of defects, advice regarding nutrition, instruction of parents in understanding of growth and development, handling of minor behavior difficulties and the administering of immunizations for smallpox, diphtheria, tetanus and whooping cough.

Paltz College Offers Program On 'Africa Today'

A program entitled "Africa Today" will be presented at the State University Teachers College, New Paltz, Wednesday and Thursday, in the College Union Building lounge, under the sponsorship of the Social Science and Art Education Divisions of the College.

Wednesday at 7:30 p. m., Dr. John V. Murra, former African area specialist of the trusteeship division of the United Nations, will present an address on "Africa Today." Dr. Murra is professor of anthropology at Vassar College.

Other Speakers

Thursday at 4:30 p. m., Dr. Paul S. Wingert, professor at Columbia University, will speak on "The Significance of West African Sculpture." At 7:30, Joseph B. Lomotey, president of the board of directors for the All African Student Union will speak on the subject, "The Significance of the New State of Ghana." Michael Olatunji of Nigeria will present an exhibition of talking drums.

According to Dr. Ralph L. Wickiser, chairman of the Art Education Division, an exhibit of African sculpture will be on display in the College Union Building during the two-day program. The public is invited to attend free of charge.

The Last Move

They say there is a painting of a chess game called "The Last Move." The devil is shown grinning at a young man, who is sweating. The youth had gambled with the devil for the joys of the world, and the next move would lose the game and his life.

The Last Move!
One day a famous chess champion studied the picture. Then he said:

"I'll make the young man's move for him."

They set up a chess board exactly as it was on the picture. He then made a move which the artist had not seen as possible, by which the devil lost the game.

If such a chess champion had come to save the young man, not in a picture, but in life, would the young man ever forget his savior?

A much greater Champion saved you when your game was lost and your number was up. And it cost Him His Life. Are YOU remembering?

Lent is designed to help you remember what Jesus, the Champion, did for you. Come and worship Him with us.

Four of Faculty Promoted at Paltz Teachers' College

Promotions of four faculty members of the State University Teachers College at New Paltz were announced this week by Dr. William J. Haggerty, president of the College.

President Haggerty explained that these promotions to a higher rank were in addition to a number of salary grade promotions within the various ranks.

List Promotions

Dr. Ignace Feuerlicht, associate professor of foreign languages, and Dr. Richard J. Ordway, associate professor of geology, have both been promoted to the rank of professor in their respective fields, and Miss Rose Abernethy received a promotion from assistant professor to associate professor of speech. Dr. Merrill H. Archard, assistant professor of physical education in Campus School, was also promoted to associate professor. Dr. Feuerlicht, a member of the faculty at New Paltz since 1947, has been active in various foreign language associations and has written numerous articles for a number of professional journals and publications. He received his Doctor's Degree from the University of Vienna.

Dr. Ordway came to New Paltz in 1948. He holds a BS degree from the University of New Hampshire and an MS and PhD from Yale University. He was recently selected to attend the first Summer Institute on geology to be held at the University of Illinois this summer.

At Paltz Since 1949

Miss Abernethy graduated from the College of St. Rose with a BA Degree, has completed the work for her MA degree at the Teachers College, Columbia University, and has done additional work at Northwestern University. She has been a member of the New Paltz College faculty since 1949.

Mitropoulos and Philharmonic Captivate Music Lovers at Concert Here Monday

"When I was a teenager, I didn't like classical music," Dimitri Mitropoulos, conductor of the New York Philharmonic Symphony said at a press conference prior to the concert here Monday.

Maestro Mitropoulos was particularly referring to teenagers of today who might not appreciate the finer arts as they should.

"When people are young," he continued, "they like everything that appeals to their age. As they grow older and more mature, then they begin to appreciate and understand the depths of classical music and its meaning. So it was with me."

This extremely charming and gracious man then smiled and commented,

"Of course, many people never do grow up."

The fact that a concert program of Strauss, Beethoven and Brahms was ahead of him, didn't seem to harass this famous personage. Maestro Mitropoulos was calm, cooperative and gave of his time to the last minute before curtain time.

Concert Technique Lauded

It is more or less expected that members of the New York Philharmonic Symphony will give a flawless performance and so it was with last night's concert.

Trained to react not as 108 men seated upon a stage, but as one individual, these superb musicians not only exhibited their musical techniques but gave Kingstonians an evening of music they will long remember.

Mitropoulos, through his conducting which is observed by this reporter, is quite different from that of Rodzinski, Stokowski and many others, wrung every emotion possible from his musicians. Drama, romance, love, were easy to discern.

The performance of Richard Strauss' tone poem, "Don Juan," opus 20, long capturing a special place among the arts, was a fitting opening for the group's 5-675th concert.

This was followed by Ludwig van Beethoven's "Symphony No. 8, F Major," opus 93. It is interesting to note about this symphony, that Beethoven, after the first production of the work, added 34 bars to the opening movement thus expanding the dimensions of the coda. The music denotes a beautiful feeling for life—it has clarity, purity, laughter and triumph.

"Symphony No. 2, D Major," opus 73 by Johannes Brahms was a favorite with the audience. The response of the assemblage was so enthusiastic that Maestro Mitropoulos obliged by playing for an encore, Verdi's, "La Forza Del Destino."

No Politics in Music

In speaking about various composers, particularly those behind the Iron Curtain, Mitropoulos was emphatic in explaining that "music knows no boundaries—it knows no politics. Music is music. A man composing a number is a man first. He feels emotions just as we all do and these emotions he translates into musical form. Shostakovich, who today, is behind the Iron Curtain, is a musical genius. His government has no say in his expression of art. It is the same the world over."

The Maestro emphasized that he has no preference for any particular type of music.

"I derive pleasure from it all—jazz, modern and old masters. Each composition to me spells out a meaning. If it is dramatic, I try to be more dramatic—if romantic, I try to be more romantic. I love it all."

Drawing a parallel between contemporary composers and the old masters, Mitropoulos pointed out that there must, of necessity, be a difference between the music of the two.

"You could not expect Aaron Copland or Leonard Bernstein, who live in the Atomic Age, to write the same type of music that Beethoven wrote. Beethoven lived in a period that was comparatively quiet. Each musical piece you hear reflects the era in which it was written. I will say, however, that although we, here in America, have had a slow start in writing music, we are fast catching up to the old masters of Europe."

Mrs. Hull Entertains

Mrs. Lytle Hull, a member of the board of directors for the New York Philharmonic Symphony entertained at dinner for Dimitri Mitropoulos at her home in Rhinebeck prior to the concert here.

The Community Concert Association also has announced

Dorothy Sebastian Dies

Hollywood, April 9 (AP)—Dorothy Sebastian, 51, a star of the silent movies and the former wife of William (Hopalong Cassidy) Boyd, died yesterday after a long illness. Miss Sebastian, whose acting career extended into the early days of the talkies, was married to Boyd from 1930 to 1936. She was married to aircraft technician Herman Shapiro at the time of her death in the Motion Picture Country Home. She was born in Birmingham, Ala., educated at the University of Alabama, and began her acting career on the New York stage in "George White's Scandals" in 1924.

New Indonesian Cabinet Sworn In

Jakarta, Indonesia, April 9 (AP)—President Sukarno today swore in a hand-picked cabinet he hopes will restore unity to divided Indonesia. The new government came under immediate fire from powerful Moslem elements.

The cabinet, named after Indonesia's rebellious islands had been four weeks without a central government, is headed by pro-Socialist Prime Minister Daden Djuanda.

The 22 ministers include four alleged pro-Communists, among them Education Minister Priyono, who received the Stalin Peace Prize in 1952. Indonesia's Moslem, Catholic and Protestant parties have warned they will not support a government containing Communists.

Sukarno's leaning towards the Reds was one of the issues which touched off recent revolts in Sumatra, Borneo and East Indonesia. There was no indication that the rebels in the outer islands would go along with the new regime.

Bad Discards Make Contract

By OSWALD JACOBY
Written for NEA Service

South's opening two bid was unsound and the eventual game contract should have been defeated. Bad discarding by West put his partner on the spot and South wound up with the marbles.

The king of clubs lead was won by the ace. South entered dummy with the king of diamonds, led a spade and finessed the jack. West won with the queen, cashed the king of clubs and continued with the jack.

South ruffed and started to run trumps. On the third trump lead East discarded the seven of hearts. On the fourth lead West dropped the nine of hearts and East played the jack.

East had counted declarer's hand and marked him with seven spades, two clubs and at least two diamonds. East also decided that declarer might hold four diamonds and no hearts.

The fifth trump was led and West dropped another heart. Now East was sure of the diamond situation. After all, West could have no possible use for either the eight or ten of diamonds and should have discarded one or both of them to show where they were.

Hence East let the queen of hearts go.

The last trump was led and West dropped his last low heart. He was going to hold on to those two useless diamonds come earthquake or high water.

East let a diamond go now but the damage had been done. South played his deuce of hearts, dropping the king and ace together, got in with the ace of diamonds and made the contract with the ten of hearts.

Eden Undergoes Additional Tests

Boston, April 9 (AP)—Former British Prime Minister Anthony Eden underwent more tests today at the New England Baptist Hospital as doctors sought to determine cause of frequent attacks of fever.

The 59-year-old English statesman flew here Sunday from his New Zealand vacation spot 11,000 miles away to be treated by Dr. Richard B. Cattell, who operated on him four years ago for a gall bladder condition.

The hospital said tests would take "a few days" and that whether or not surgery is necessary, Eden might well be hospitalized a month.

Saugerties Jr. CC Easter Egg Hunt Date Is Changed

The date of the first annual Saugerties Easter egg hunt has been changed from Easter Sunday afternoon to Saturday, April 20, 10 a. m. at Cantine Memorial Field, Washington avenue, Saugerties, it was announced today by Charles Rice, chairman.

Also included on the committee of the Saugerties Junior Chamber of Commerce sponsored program are William Wilson and Thomas Hennessey.

Two age groups are eligible to participate, five-year-olds and under and six to 12 years. The winner of each group will receive a prize to be announced.

Parents are invited to accompany the children, but will be restricted to the cheering section.

Strike Vote Scheduled

Lynn, Mass., April 9 (AP)—General Electric workers in Lynn and Everett are scheduled to take a strike vote this week in a dispute with management over grievances. Officials of the International Union of Electrical Workers (IUE) said the strike vote will be taken by secret ballot Wednesday or Thursday. More than 20,000 persons are employed in the GE plants in Lynn and Everett. An estimated 2,500 employees voted yesterday to authorize the strike vote.

Made 35 Million

Kate Smith Will Appear April 28 On Star TV Show

New York, April 8 (AP)—Although Kate Smith stopped appearing regularly on television almost three years ago, the public has not yet stopped writing her and asking her to come back.

Now she is going to come back—for a single live hour on ABC-TV April 28 (at 9 p. m., Eastern Standard). Featured with her on "The Kate Smith Hour" will be Benny Goodman, Boris Karloff (who will sing, of all things), Edgar Bergen and Charlie McCarthy, Gertrude Berg, Ed Wynn and the Billie Williams quartet.

Became Grind

Would she want to return to television on a permanent basis? "Thank you no," she said recently. "It was wonderful—and it became a grind. Four years of a daily television show was enough."

People often ask her how she spends her time since she has confined her professional activities to occasional appearances on TV programs such as the Ed Sullivan show.

"There just aren't enough hours in a day," she says. "I go shopping and go to shows and visit friends. Nearly every evening I watch television."

Never Took Lessons

Her manager, Ted Collins, cites some impressive statistics about her career. Although she never took a singing lesson, she is estimated to have earned about 35 million dollars as a singer. She has made nearly 10,500 radio broadcasts and 1,050 television appearances and recorded more than 2,200 songs. She is estimated to have received about 25 million fan letters—and they still pour in at a high daily rate.

Miss Smith says she will not appear on television unless Collins is in charge of staging the program. During a telecast he remains in the control booth and directs each camera shot of her, she says.

She is surprised at how many younger singers these days are not content to make a career of singing only, but want to become dramatic actresses and/or dancers too.

"The first thing to learn is if you have the talent," she says. "That's not always easy because so few people are willing to tell you the truth. But if you have the talent, you should stick with that talent—and only that."

Appears Secure

Washington, April 9 (AP)—Robert Morris appeared secure today in his job as counsel for the Senate Internal Security Subcommittee despite a proposal by Americans for Democratic Action (ADA) that he be fired. ADA Chairman Robert R. Nathan wrote Democratic Leader Lyndon B. Johnson of Texas and GOP Leader Knowland of California yesterday urging them to start action toward Morris' dismissal because of what he called "the mischievous bungling" of the case of Canadian Diplomat Herbert Norman. Norman, whom a subcommittee report had linked with Communists after he had been cleared by his own government, leaped to his death last week in Cairo. He had been serving as Canadian ambassador to Egypt.

Sophia Loren Impresses

Hollywood, April 9 (AP)—Sophia Loren, who arrived in Hollywood wearing a full length sable coat, took it off today, thanks to the weatherman, and proved that everything they said about her in Italy is true. The 22-year-old actress, here to make the film, "Desire Under the Elms," made a big hit with the press upon her arrival by answering questions in perfect English and posing for photographers—in fluent Italian. "I think about marriage all the time," she confided. "But I've been working so much that I haven't had time to meet the man."

Trusts His Prisoners

Oklahoma City, April 9 (AP)—Bill Harpole, superintendent of Mississippi State Penitentiary, told the Southern States Prison Association and the Southern States Probation and Parole Conference yesterday he's solved a lot of problems by giving prisoners an annual vacation and letting their wives visit them weekly. "I've lost only one man since last June 15," Harpole reported. "If you place a little confidence in prisoners, they hate to betray it. After all, they are just folks like the rest of us."

Treasury Receipts

Washington, April 9 (AP)—The cash position of the treasury April 4, 1957: Balance, $6,303,979,491.54; deposits fiscal year July 1, $57,871,450,928.21; withdrawals fiscal year, $59,911,526,318.55; total debt, (x) $274,831,201,198.85; gold assets, $22,305,813,302.42; x—includes $450,548,970.71 debt not subject to statutory limit.

Chicago, April 9 (AP)—Paul Benson learned yesterday it is against the law to fire a shotgun blast in the city, even into your own television set. Benson, 33, told Judge William F. Barth in Domestic Relations Court he fired the shotgun blast last March 11 after his wife refused to turn off the TV set. He was fined $15.

Ruby Holds Lead In Saugerties Dartball League

Ruby held a one-game lead over West Camp and Glasco AC's who are tied for second place following Saugerties Dartball League games Monday night.

The Glasco A's deadlocked with Ruby last week, lost three games to Service Center A's and dropped into a fourth place tie with Quarryville. The Quarrymen blanked Cedar Grove while Ruby took two from Katsbaan.

Glasco's AC's, who won the Mid-Hudson Tournament in Poughkeepsie Saturday night won two from Cementon and are now tied with West Camp in second place.

The last games of the regular season will be played Monday night. League leading Ruby will meet with Service Center B's; West Camp will clash with fourth place Glasco A's and Glasco AC's will play Cedar Grove. Quarryville is scheduled with Service Center A's.

All other teams are eliminated from the play-offs which begin the following Monday night. Following next Monday's games the top team will be declared the league pennant winner. The next four teams will meet in the play-offs to determine who will challenge the pennant winner in the Saugerties Dartball League series.

Casey Springs Surprise (?); Picks Yankees for Pennant

Jacksonville, Fla., April 9 (AP)—Manager Casey Stengel, of the New York Yankees today predicted another American League pennant for his heavily favored Bombers.

But the veteran skipper doesn't believe the Yanks' task will be as simple as most experts visualize.

"The league is better," said Casey. "Those second division teams have youth and youth always is trying to win. Baltimore has good pitching, Kansas City has made trades to improve and Washington has some good pitching and a lot of new young men."

"I'd say Chicago is better because it has more pitching and more pinch-hitters. Cleveland always has pitching but they don't know about third base and their outfield. Boston has a great outfield but they aren't sure about the rest of their team."

Stengel, who has won seven American League flags and six world series in eight years at the Bombers' helm, has his club just about set. He's particularly happy about Tony Kubek, 21-year-old rookie outfielder, and the depth of his pitching staff.

Spot for Kubek
"Kubek can play any position, outfield or short. I'm not sick at all the way he has done things. I'm not knocking Elston Howard or Enos Slaughter or anyone else but Kubek will play quite a lot of left field from now on."

"As for the pitching, I've never had so many in my life. Not so many good ones, anyway. When I had bad ball clubs I had 14 or so but had trouble finding nine who could pitch."

Casey named Whitey Ford, Don Larsen, Tom Sturdivant and Johnny Kucks as certain starting pitchers. He said he will carry 11 for the time being. The list also includes Art Ditmar and Bobby Shantz, both obtained from Kansas City during the winter. Bob Turley, Bob Grim, Ralph Terry, Tommy Byrne and Al Ciochetti. He indicated Shantz, Grim and Byrne would be his front-line relievers.

Lauding the spirit of his club, Stengel said, "around here they either have that or, if they don't there are other men for the jobs."

Mager Captures 10-Minute Tourney
President John Mager of the King's Knight Chess Club won nine games and drew in another to capture the "10-minute tourney" staged by the club.

Runnerup was William Oneby with 8 wins and 2 losses. William Lawson, Eugene Meckel, Jerome Singer and Nat Rosenberg also competed.

Cadet Hockey

Indians blanked the Rangers, 3-0, for the Cadet Junior floor hockey league title at the YMCA. Boys beat the Red Wings, 3-0, for second place.

Court Sticks To Grid Ruling

Washington, April 8 (AP)—The Supreme Court today stuck to its decision on that professional football is subject to Federal anti-trust laws.

The court denied without comment a request for reconsideration by the National Football League.

League attorneys asked for another hearing on the grounds the Feb. 25 ruling "constitutes a discrimination against professional football and preferential exemption" of professional football.

Walt Alston Worried About Brook Flingers

Manager Walter Alston of the Brooklyn Dodgers has been singing the melodious strains of the confident theme this spring, but the plight of his first-line pitchers could find him whistling the Blues.

No one of Alston's big four—Roger Craig, Don Newcombe, Sal Maglie, and Johnny Podres—has gone the full nine-inning distance in a Grapefruit League game.

Podres, released from the Navy because of a bad back, has managed to stick around for seven innings. Newcombe has gone six three times, Maglie has gone six and Craig has reached five.

But the Dodger skipper maintains "it's not necessary for a man to go nine in these games," and figures his twirlers will be ready for the season opener a week from today.

Craig has had about the most dismal spring, pitching only 16 innings, after being sidelined by an elbow ache, and later for 11 days by a sore throat.

Young Rog was bounced in the second innings for a pinch hitter yesterday after giving up five runs in the first as the Dodgers bowed to the Milwaukee Braves 8-5 at Oklahoma City.

Braves Lead 6-2
It was the Braves' fourth consecutive success over the Dodgers and over-all gave them a 6-2-1 record against the defending National League champions.

Ken Lehman absorbed the rest of the Milwaukee pounding while Ray Crone and Bob Townbridge brought the Braves spring record to 18-8 against major league competition. The Dodgers are 13-15. Charley Neal and Gino Cimoli hit homers for the Brooks.

Elsewhere, Boston's Red Sox ended a six-game losing streak by defeating Pittsburgh 8-7 in 10 innings at Ft. Myers, Fla.; Chicago's White Sox shut out St. Louis 3-0 at Charlotte, N. C.; Philadelphia downed Detroit at Clearwater 6-4; the New York Giants edged Cleveland 3-1 in a game held to five innings by rain at Mobile, Ala., and Baltimore beat Chicago's Cubs 6-5. Cincinnati and Washington were rained out.

Chisox Beat Cards
Milt Bolling hit a homer in the 10th for Boston's victory. Jackie Jensen and Jim Piersall also connected for the Red Sox and Danny Kravitz countered with a two-run blow for the Pirates.

Lefthander Jack Harshman and reliever Dixie Howell combined to limit the Cardinals to seven hits. Dave Philley's double and Sherm Lollar's single accounted for a White Sox tally in the second. Rookie Jim Landis' two-run homer led the scoring in the third.

The Phils picked up their ninth victory by a one-run margin as Ed Bouchee led a 12-hit attack on Detroit pitchers Paul Foytack and Jack Crimian with a homer, single and double. Willie Jones also had a home run for the Phils. Robin Roberts gave up two runs in the ninth but stiffened to retain a one-run margin.

It was homer or nothing in Mobile with Dusty Rhodes getting a two-run wallop and Foster Castleman a solo for the Giants and Bob Avile doing the damage for the Indians. Rookie Curt Barclay picked up the victory for New York.

Charley Beamon, 21-year-old Rookie, pitched five-hit ball for the Orioles until he was relieved in the eighth. Bob Nieman drove in five Orioles runs, one with a homer. The Cubs' Walt Moryn also hit for the distance.

Saturday Clinics Are Scheduled at Forsyth Park

Kingston Junior Chamber of Commerce has announced plans for a Junior and Boys tennis tournament and a series of free clinics at Forsyth Park.

Richard E. Cornish, publicity chairman for the Jaycees, said the tennis lessons will be given free of charge at Forsyth Park.

Fred Del Rosaria, Ulster county singles champion, will instruct any interested boys and girls in tennis fundamentals and techniques.

The lessons will be given every Saturday from 8:30 a. m. to 10 a. m.

The tournament and lessons are part of the Jaycees' drive to further tennis interest in the community.

In State Competition

The Junior and Boys tournament is open to any boy who has not reached his 18th birthday before January 1, 1956. Awards will be given to the top players. The winners will go on an expense-paid trip to Niagara Falls to compete in the Jaycee state tournament.

Further details concerning date and entrance procedure will be published at a later date.

The Jaycees also sponsor a local golf eliminations to qualify representatives for the state Jaycee golf tourney.

Further information on the tennis tournaments and clinic can be obtained from H. M. Beisner, Box 162-A, Saugerties and R. E. Cornish, 113-A Fairmont avenue, Kingston.

Zale and Graziano Styles Same: Both Use Bare Knuckle Methods

(EDITOR'S NOTE: Nat Fleischer, for 51 years boxing's official historian as sports editor of the New York Telegram and now editor of the famed Ring Magazine and Record Book, puts down, exclusively for NEA Service, the fights he cannot forget.)

By NAT FLEISCHER
Written for NEA Service

New York — (NEA) — Tony Zale seemed helpless. It was half-way through the fifth round and Rocky Graziano was throwing punch after punch flush onto Zale's face.

Tony was battered so terrifically that I turned to Dan Parker, sitting

EVERY ROUND THE SAME—Rocky Graziano, at his wild best in second bout with Tony Zale in Chicago, throws his wicked right-hand into Tony's face. Their first two meetings kept this kind of a pace throughout.

next to me, and said, "Too bad, but it'll all be over in the next round. Zale can't stand that punishment much longer."

At the bell, Ray Arcel and Sam Plan and Art Winch jumped into the ring and worked over Zale. They put ice on his neck, doused his head with cold water, massaged his legs and slapped his face to make certain he knew what was going on.

They were, most thought, getting the 33-year-old Zale ready for his last round as middle-weight champion. This was Sept. 27, 1946, and 39,827 were at Yankee Stadium to see Zale, the Navy vet, put his title on the line against the wild-haired East Sider, Graziano.

In the first round, Zale had surprised everybody by dropping Graziano with a right uppercut and left hook to the jaw. Graziano arose—and from then on, he tormented Zale. He battered Tony to the floor in the second and the bell sounded with Zale wobbling on one knee. Zale, with right thumb broken, was hurt badly throughout the third.

But Zale rushed out as his handlers yelled: "This is it, Tony. Go get 'em."

Graziano came into Zale, his right starting a punch. Zale threw a right hand under the heart. Then a left hook to the cheek, close to the temple. Graziano went to his knees. He looked bewildered. Numb, Graziano tried to reach his feet. He couldn't raise himself though he held the lower ropes. Referee Ruby Goldstein counted with Johnny Burns, the knockdown timer. Graziano strained. At nine, he was moving. But he missed the count.

When Graziano realized he was through, he walked around with a sheepish grin on his face. Zale, bleeding from the mouth and nose, cut on several parts of his face, had to remain on his stool for a few moments. This was a fight which might as well have been held with bare knuckles. It was slashing, brutal savagery at its best. You'd never see anything like it again, most said.

But they did. On July 16, 1947, the two were at it again—this time at sold-out Chicago Stadium. And now it was Graziano's turn to face the sixth round.

Knocked down in the fourth, staggered badly in the third, his left eye bleeding, his right closing, Graziano waited for the bell. Zale was eager. He was in command in this fight. It was Graziano's night of torment.

At the bell, Zale came in. He let go several hard lefts to the body. Then he switched to the wounded eye. Zale quickly opened it again and Graziano's face turned crimson.

From somewhere, probably the same place Zale gathered courage in the first bout, Graziano found the strength to counter. He rocked Tony with an overhand right. Then another and another and suddenly Zale was drifting aimlessly around the ring, hands down, as more than two dozen right hands thudded onto his head. He reeled into the ropes, his back turning from the attack and as Graziano wildly pounded his back Referee Johnny Behr moved in and stopped it. Forget these two bouts? Not as long as I live.

NEXT: Ketchel caught his man too late.

Martinez Lets Dupas Off Hook And Loses Bout

New Orleans, April 9 (AP)—Foxy Jack Kearns, a shrewd judge of boxing in anybody's book, conceded today Ralph Dupas is "one of the best lightweights in the world," but disagreed with the decision giving the New Orleans dandy his victory over high-ranked welterweight Vince Martinez.

Kearns, who steered Jack Dempsey to the heavyweight title almost 40 years ago, was in Martinez' corner last night when the handsome Paterson, N. J., puncher finished second best to Dupas in ten rounds.

But the verdict met with the approval of the great majority of the 10,800 fans who paid $41.200 to sit in on the event in chilly Pelican Baseball Stadium.

Fails to Follow Up
Martinez opened a deep gash in the corner of Dupas' right eye in the third round and the wound harassed him the rest of the bout.

But Martinez failed to capitalize on the injury and allowed the 21-year-old Dupas, rated sixth among lightweight challengers, to regain his composure in the middle rounds. The quicker Dupas continually beat Martinez to the punch, with most of the attack centering on Martinez' mid-section.

Both dishd out punishment and each took some good shots in return. But Dupas' aggressiveness and cat-like reflexes paid off in swinging the nod over the 27-year-old New Jersey native. Judge Lucian Jaubert voted four rounds for each man with two even, but had Dupas ahead on aggressiveness. Judge Phil Gaffney had Dupas ahead six rounds to three with one even and Referee Pete Giaruso tabbed Dupas on top 5-4-1. The AP card saw Dupas a 6-4 winner.

Pressure Is On Boston as NBA Series Resumes

Boston, April 9 (AP)—The Boston Celtics stand at the crossroads tonight in their National Basketball Assn. playoff game with St. Louis.

Boston never had had the lead in the best-of-seven series against the Hawks to date but has managed to rally twice. The teams are locked in a 2-2 stand-off.

Bidding for their first championship in the 11-year history of the NBA, favored Boston must make its bid now.

If the Celtics lose tonight in friendly Boston Garden, they would be prime candidates for elimination in St. Louis Thursday.

St. Louis can lose tonight and be in a favorable position to tie things up again at home.

Hometown fans hope that the improvement in the play of backcourt ace Bob Cousy and rookie pivot sensation Bill Russell will assure a triumph.

Cousy Rebounds

Cousy, always outstanding as a play-setter, had taken a tumble from his shooting peak since his Feb. 22 injury until Sunday night. Bounding Bob tallied 31 points—including 11 field goals—in the team's 123-118 victory at St. Louis.

The Hawks have been doing the unexpected so far in their determined bid to hustle their way to the top. When the Celtics demonstrated rebounding superiority, St. Louis has answered with great shooting. And when the Celtics were shooting their best, the Hawks commanded the backboards.

In the four games to date, Boston has a 270-227 edge in rebounds.

Bob Pettit of St. Louis is the individual scoring leader with 111 points or a 27.75 average.

It takes a giant highway to speed up automotive traffic and it takes a giant medium to speed up sales traffic. That medium is the daily newspaper, a giant that lives in every town.

Reader traffic through the daily newspaper is greater than ever. According to Sindlinger & Co., statistical analysts, newspaper reader traffic reached an all-time high of 100,000,000 on an average day in January. More people read newspapers than viewed, listened to or read any other medium.

Reader traffic leads to sales traffic. The greater the traffic the greater the opportunity for retailers, wholesalers, distributors and regional manufacturers to sell more goods to more people. Your daily newspaper gives you that opportunity every day throughout the year.

Your daily newspaper makes it easier and faster for you to reach more prospects in your trading area. Use the direct route to speed up your sales. Use the daily newspaper.

All business is local... and so are all newspapers.

Tornado Lifts Truck Off Road

Wallace, S. C., April 9 (P)—Truck driver David A. Petty of Reidsville, N. C., had quite a story to tell today after taking his tractor-trailer truck through here when a tornado hit yesterday. Petty said the tornado lifted the giant rig off the road, flipped it over and set it back down on its wheels. Petty told a newsman that a truck driver following his vehicle said it was so high above the highway that he could have driven under it.

Two Suffocated Under Snowslide

Empire, Colo., April 9 (P)—Deliberately started with cannon fire, a snowslide yesterday killed a cameraman filming the action and a highway worker warning motorists to stay away.

The photographer's helper, Roland Wyatt, 18, of Salt Lake City, was trapped in the fringe of the avalanche and clawed his way out from under two feet of snow.

John Hermann, 26, Salt Lake City movie cameraman, and Wayne S. Whitlock, 21, of Empire, maintenance worker for the Colorado Highway Dept., suffocated under tons of snow, rock and trees.

The snowslide was seen in motion on purpose as part of the highway department's avalanche control along U. S. Highway 40 in the Blue Hill area of Berthoud Pass, about 46 miles west of Denver.

Experts for the department keep close tab on snow accumulations along the highway and at proper times kick off the avalanches, that menace travel. This is done usually by gun fire after the highway is closed to travel.

Reports Conflict About Explosion In Tail of Liner

New York, April 9 (P)—A Civil Aeronautics Board of Inquiry has heard conflicting reports about whether an explosion in the tail of a Northeast Airlines DC-6A came before or after the plane crashed.

The Miami-bound airliner plunged onto Rikers Island in the East River Feb. 1, shortly after takeoff from La Guardia Field. Twenty persons died in the fiery crash, 81 survived.

A New York City Police Laboratory report presented at the inquiry yesterday contended the explosion occurred while the plane was still in the air.

The report said there was an explosion in the left tail horizontal stabilizer. Fragments of a pine tree were found in the exploded area, the report added, and that indicated they were lodged there after the plane hit trees on the island.

But CAB investigator C. Eugene Searle said his examination indicated that an explosion occurred after the airplane touched down. His conclusion, he said, was based on "scratches and markings" found on the bottom of the tail fin.

Dies in Rail Crash

Lebanon, Tenn., April 9 (P)—A Tennessee Central Railroad freight train and a tractor-trailer truck collided at a crossing near here today, killing one man, injuring five and drenching the highway with hundreds of gallons of gasoline. The Tennessee Highway Patrol dispatched a helicopter and several patrol cars to the scene to block traffic away from the gasoline and tangled wreckage. The dead man was identified tentatively as Fred K. Williams of Kingsport, driver for Mason and Dixon Lines, Inc. He left Kingsport last night for Nashville, about 20 miles west of Lebanon.

Declare Soble Fit for Trial on Conspiracy Count

New York, April 9 (P)—Jack Soble, 53, under indictment with his wife and another man on charges of conspiring to transmit U. S. secrets to Soviet Russia, today was declared mentally fit to stand trial.

Soble underwent extensive psychiatric examination at Bellevue Hospital after he suffered an apparent collapse in his Bronx jail cell Feb. 18. At the time he had been reported as acting "peculiarly."

On April 1, Federal Judge Richard H. Levett reserved decision on Soble's ability to stand trial. Since then the judge read a detailed report submitted by psychiatrists who examined Soble in Bellevue Hospital from Feb. 18 to March 29.

Soble, his wife, Myra, 52, and Jacob Albam, 64, stood silently in court today as Judge Levett announced: "I have examined the report of the psychiatrists dated March 29 and I find that, pursuant to a section of the U. S. Code, Soble is mentally competent to stand trial."

Soble now is in the federal house of detention.

New Reactor Being Designed for Economy

Idaho Falls, Idaho, April 9 (P)—A new type of nuclear power reactor designed to lower the cost of producing electricity is being developed at the national reactor testing station of the Atomic Energy Commission near this eastern Idaho community. It is called the Organic Moderated Reactor Experiment (OMRE).

A carbon-hydrogen compound such as diphenyl will be used both as a coolant and a moderator.

In most reactors water or some other liquid is used as the coolant. It absorbs the heat generated by the fission process and uses the heat to produce steam which turns a power-generating turbine.

Another substance, such as graphite, is used as a moderator to control and contain the atomic particles which produce and sustain the chain reaction.

Atomics International, a division of North American Aviation, Inc., has been authorized by the AEC to develop OMRE.

Named Norway Envoy

Washington, April 9 (P)—President Eisenhower today nominated Miss Frances E. Willis, now ambassador to Switzerland, to be ambassador to Norway. Miss Willis, a career diplomat and this country's only woman ambassador at present, would succeed L. Corrin Strong, who has resigned. The nomination is subject to Senate confirmation. Miss Willis, who will be 58 May 20, entered the foreign service in 1927. She is a native of Metropolis, Ill., and her legal residence at present is Redlands, Calif.

More than 50 cities are included in the Pittsburgh metropolitan area.

Tax Department Says Many Are Not Taking Cuts

Albany, N. Y., April 9 (P)—The State Tax Department reports indications that more than a half-million taxpayers are ignoring an income-tax cut approved by the Legislature.

The department said yesterday it might have to make that many refunds or adjustments because of overpayments. The estimate was based on a spot check of returns. The deadline for filing is April 15.

The 1957 Legislature continued for another year a 1956 reduction of 15 per cent on the first $100 of tax due and 10 per cent on the next $200, to a maximum cut of $35.

Tax forms and official instructions do not refer to the reduction. A taxpayer who computed and paid his income tax solely on the basis of current official forms would overpay.

Last year, Gov. Harriman signed the Republican-drawn tax-cut bill April 6, nine days before the filing deadline. A million returns were adjusted in subsequent months. This year, Harriman signed the tax-reduction measure on March 14.

Fire Police Will Meet Wednesday

A regular meeting of the Volunteer Fire Police Association of Ulster county will be held Wednesday, April 10, at 8:30 p. m. at the Hasbrouck Hall, Modena.

There will be discussion on various matters of interest to volunteer firemen, including the new benefit law effective March first relating to active volunteer firemen.

Other matters to be reviewed will be arrangements for the Fire Police picnic which will be held at New Paltz in June.

Waitress Badly Burned

Old Lyme, Conn., April 9 (P)—A waitress, trapped by flames in a telephone booth as she called the fire department, was burned critically early today when a fast-spread fire swept a lakeside inn here. Miss Helen Murray, 25, who lived at the Inn, was pulled from the flaming two-story wooden building by Fire Chief Everett Burke, who lives two houses away. At Lawrence Memorial Hospital in nearby New London she was reported in "very, very poor" condition, suffering second and third degree burns on her face and body. A hospital spokesman said she also may have a head injury.

RAMBLER SETS ECONOMY MARK

New York—Less than a penny a mile for fuel is the all-time coast-to-coast economy record set by Ramble 6 with overdrive. The Ramble Cross Country traveled 2,961 miles from Los Angeles to New York on 92.27 gallons of gasoline, averaging 40.35 miles per hour.

Americanization Classes to Hold Party Wednesday

Sixty members of three Americanization classes in Kingston's adult education program will hold a party Wednesday evening in the Kingston High School cafeteria.

The party, for which the "Swing Kings" will play, marks the conclusion of the adult school year.

The members of the three classes—beginners, intermediate and advanced classes in Americanization and English—are of German, Italian, Hungarian and Japanese extraction. Eight or 10 members of the beginners class are Hungarians.

James Perry, a KHS student, a skilled ventriloquist and magician, will perform. The beginners class is taught by Raphael Klein, the intermediate by John Ascarino and the advanced by Stephen Hyatt, principal of M.J.M.

Mr. Klein said this morning that some members of the classes have lacked time and opportunity to attend such classes or to learn how to speak fluent English. Some have been in this country for several years and others are recent arrivals.

Mr. Klein said a party of this kind means much to the group. The classes themselves, he points out, offer its members more than instruction in Americanization and English. It is also an opportunity for them to meet on the social level.

Dies of Injuries

Buffalo, N. Y., April 9 (P)—Rocco Schiavone, 63, died in a hospital today of injuries suffered March 20 when he became entangled in the machinery of a city garbage truck.

Three senators opposed United States entry into the United Nations.
